Director of Athletics Bill Byrne

On behalf of the Nebraska Athletic Department, and all the wonderful fans in the State of Nebraska, welcome to Memorial Stadium for today's game.

Marilyn and I continue to be impressed by our wonderful Husker fans. It is this unbelievable "Big Red" support that enables Nebraska to continue its NCAA-record sellout streak, which will extend to 239 at the end of this season.

The Athletic Department is proud of the sincere sportsmanship extended by our fans. One of the noted traditions that sets Nebraska apart from most institutions is the warm and courteous welcome visiting teams and their fans receive. Tough competition and outstanding sportsmanship are vital components of intercollegiate athletics and our goals at the University of Nebraska.

On behalf of all Nebraskans, I would like to welcome visiting teams, fans, their coaches and student-athletes who will meet the Huskers on the field today. We hope that you enjoy your visit and the competition.

Huskers Return Home to Face Baylor

Today's Matchup

Today's Game: No. 1/1 (AP/Coaches) Nebraska vs. Baylor

Series History: Nebraska Leads 5-1

Last Meeting: Nebraska won, 49-21, at Baylor on Oct. 11, 1997 Coaches: Nebraska-Frank Solich (27-5, Third Season); Baylor-Kevin

Steele (3-14, Second Season)

Husker Records

- ▶ 38 consecutive winning seasons
- ▶ 31 consecutive nine-win seasons
- > 31 consecutive bowl bids
- ▶ 317 consecutive weeks ranked by the Associated Press
- 237 consecutive sellouts in Memorial Stadium

By Shamus McKnight

After a pair of impressive road wins, the top-ranked Huskers return to Memorial Stadium, looking to extend the nation's longest win streak in Division I-A to 13 against the Baylor Bears this afternoon. The Huskers enter today's game with a 6-0 record and sit on top of the Big 12 North Division standings with a 3-0 record, while Baylor enters the contest with a mark of 2-4 overall and 0-3 in the Big 12.

Today's contest is a homecoming for two members of the Baylor program, as Head Coach Kevin Steele and Running Backs Coach Tommie Frazier make their first appearence in Memorial Stadium on the opposing sideline. Steele served as an assistant coach at Nebraska from 1989 to 1994 before taking an assistant coaching position with the Carolina Panthers. He returned to the collegiate ranks last season and today marks his first contest against NU.

One of the most legendary players in school history, Frazier guided the Huskers to back-to-back national titles in 1994 and 1995 and was the Heisman runner-up as a senior. One of the 10 Greatest College Football Players of the Century according to Sport Magazine, Frazier was recently voted the top Husker quarterback in school history after compiling a 33-3 record as a starter in his collegiate career.

Last week, the Huskers turned in their best game of the season on both sides of the ball in a 56-3 rout over Texas Tech. Offensively, I-backs Dan Alexander (113 yards) and Correll Buckhalter (105) both topped the century mark, as the Huskers torched the nation's second-best defense for 442 yards rushing and nearly 550 yards of total offense. Quarterback Eric Crouch accounted for 138 yards of total offense and three touchdowns in less than three quarters of work. Sophomore Toniu Fonoti paced the O-line with a team-high 19 pancakes, while Dominic Raiola and Russ Hochstein added 13 and 10, respectively.

Defensively, the Blackshirts set the tone early with interceptions by Joe Walker and Troy Watchorn on each of Texas Tech's first two series. The Huskers held the vaunted Red Raider "Air Raid" offense to 22-of-48 passing for a season-low 181 yards passing and just 19 yards on the ground. Thorpe Award candidate Keyou Craver led NU with seven tackles, including two for losses, while Carlos Polk, Dion Booker and Randy Stella added five apiece. Polk made five stops from his linebacker position and had a team-best five quarterback hurries. On the season, he leads Nebraska with 45 tackles and is second with 10 QB hurries. Watchorn, who is featured in today's program on page 159, is second in the Big 12 and tied for sixth nationally with four interceptions.

The Husker special teams also played well in the win, as punter Dan Hadenfeldt averaged 45.5 yards per punt and place-kicker Josh Brownextended his streak to 73 straight PATs dating back to last season.

On the season, the Huskers rank first nationally in rushing offense (366.5 yards per game), third in total offense (497.8 ypg) and fifth in scoring offense (44.2 points per game). At this time last season, the Huskers were rushing for nearly 100 yards less per game and scoring five fewer points per game.

Several marks will be on the line today, including the Huskers' winning streak, which is tied for the ninth longest in school history, and a 10-game home win string. A win today guarantees a winning season for the 39th consecutive season – the second longest streak in Division I-A history – dating back to 1962.

Several individual milestones could be reached today as well. Alexander needs only 22 yards to become the 19th Husker to rush for 2,000 yards in a career, and will join Buckhalter as the fourth Husker duo to reach that plateau in the same year. Crouch needs only 77 yards to pass Frazier for second place on NU quarterback rushing charts and could eclipse many of Frazier's records before his career is over. The junior from Omaha is just 122 yards away from becoming just the 33rd NCAA quarterback in Division I-A history and just second in school history to reach the 2,000-yard mark.

Nebraska leads the all-time series with Baylor 5-1, including four consecutive wins dating back to a 26-7 loss to the Bears in Lincoln on Nov. 17, 1956. The Huskers own three shutouts of the Bears in six meetings,

Husker-Bear Tidbits

- Nebraska has shut out the Bears in Lincoln for nine consecutive quarters dating back to a third quarter touchdown in a 31-10 win on Sept. 24, 1977.
- In the last meeting in 1997. Ahman Green led the Huskers with 20 carries for 158 yards and four rushing touchdowns, as the Huskers rolled up 548 yards in total offense in a 49-21 victory.
- > The last time the two teams met in Lincoln, Damon Benning (22-135-3) and DeAngelo Evans (12-105-2) both rushed for 100 yards and Scott Frost added 90 yards, as the Huskers rolled for 669 total yards and 491 yards rushing.
- ▶ Baylor coach Kevin Steele was 0-3 against Nebraska as an opposing assistant coach and 61-11 as an NU assistant.
- ▶ Eight Huskers came to Nebraska from the Lone Star State, including starters Joe Walker (Arlington) and Keyuo Craver (Harleton). Clint Finley (Cuero). Justin Smith (Sherman), T.J. Hollowell (Copperas Cove) and Willie Amos (Sweetwater) also have seen significant playing time this season. Mike Demps (Fort Worth). Lannie Hopkins (Rowlett) and Nick Povendo (Keller) round out the list.

including a 49-0 pounding in Lincoln during the 1996 season. Nebraska also shutout the Bears 13-0 at Memorial Stadium on Sept. 1, 1990. The Bears have not scored in Lincoln in nine consecutive quarters dating back to a thirdquarter touchdown in Nebraska's 31-10 win in Lincoln on Sept. 24, 1977. The Huskers won the last meeting 49-21 in Waco, Texas, on Oct. 11, 1997, in the only meeting in Waco.

The Bears have struggled recently, as they have been shut out in each of their last two games and will be looking to end a 16game conference losing streak.

After winning their opener, starting quarterback Greg Cicero suffered a season-ending injury, and the Bear offense has struggled to find an identity. The Bears have rotated three quarterbacks, as Guy Tomcheck has passed for 495 yards and five touchdowns, while throwing just one interception. Tailback Darrell Bush leads the Bear ground attack with 311 yards and a touchdown. Reggie Newhouse is Baylor's top receiver with 24 catches for 409 yards.

Defensively, middle linebacker Kris Micheaux, who has more than 300 career stops, leads BU with 60 tackles and three recovered fumbles, while three other players have more than 40 stops apiece.

The Bears are similar to Nebraska in that both teams play disciplined football, as the teams rank first and second in fewest penalties in the Big 12. Through six games, Baylor has 35 penalties, while NU has 36.

This Week In Husker Sports

- ▶ Nebraska's game at Oklahoma has been moved to 11 a.m. and will be televised by ABC. Other games against Kansas and at Kansas State could be picked up six- or 12 days in advance. NU's game with Colorado is set for 11 a.m. on ABC.
- ▶ The top-ranked Husker volleyball team returns home to take on Kansas next Saturday, Oct. 28 at 7 p.m. The Huskers are 17-0 overall and 8-0 in the Big 12 entering this week's matches against Kansas State and
- ▶ Both the Husker men's and women's basketball teams will have open scrimmages to the public next week. The men will scrimmage this Friday, Oct. 27 at 5 p.m., while the women will scrimmage on Wednesday, Nov. 1 at 7:05 p.m.

uccess can be defined in many ways at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. Sophocles said success is the reward for toil. At its very broadest, success is satisfaction taken in a job well done. I'm pleased to report to you some of our recent success stories.

This past summer, Molly Schmitz, a senior education major from Omaha received the national Public Affairs and Consumer Education "Gold Communicator Award" by the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators.

This award recognizes an individual or organization whose primary function is not directly associated with motor vehicle, law enforcement, or traffic safety administration who has positively affected traffic safety.

Schmitz is the student coordinator for the NU on Wheels safe ride home program. NU on Wheels was launched Oct. 14, 1999, and provided 1,706 rides for 3,785 UNL students during the 1999-2000 academic year. NU on Wheels was conceived by UNL students following the death of UNL student Laura Cockson at the hands of a drunk driver in March 1998. NU on Wheels provides free cab rides home for UNL students who would otherwise drive after drinking or ride in a car with a drunk driver, or put themselves in some other unsafe situation.

"Molly is one in a million," says Bob Schroeder, alcohol and drug program coordinator at the University Health Center. "She practically willed the program into existence. The NU on Wheels program now has widespread support, including financial, from the student body. It's an amazing story."

Molly is one of dozens of UNL students who are working to reduce problems associated with alcohol abuse. NU Directions is the name of UNL's "A Matter of Degree" program, a national grant-funded program aimed at reducing high-risk drinking. This year's focus is on changing policies and attitudes that encourage high-risk drinking among young people.

You may recently have read about Charles Wood. A molecular biologist, Wood is the Lewis Lehr/3M Professor of Biological Sciences at UNL. He recently received a $10.4 million grant from the National Institutes of Health to support research into viruses. This is the largest NIH grant ever received by a Nebraska institution and it pulls together scientists from UNL, the University of Nebraska Medical Center and Creighton University by establishing the Nebraska Center for Viral Pathogenesis.

The center's researchers will conduct basic research on the ways viruses cause disease, studying some of the most devastating human viral diseases, including AIDS, HIV-associated cancers, and chronic infections caused by herpes viruses and a new class of infectious agents called prions. The center's studies of the mechanisms by which viruses replicate and cause infection and cell death also will lead to a better understanding of human neuroimmune disorders, such as Alzheimer's disease, and have broad implications for other research areas.

Wood heads a UNL-based international research program that works with a clinical population in Zambia and focuses on how HIV and HIV-associated viruses are transmitted from mothers to their infants. His research into the relationships between HIV, human herpes virus 8 and Kaposi's sarcoma is shedding new light on ways to block HIV transmission from mother to child, and is a step toward development of an HIV vaccine.

Wood will be assisted in developing and administrating the center by Dr. Howard Gendelman, David Purtilo distinguished professor and director of UNMC's Center for Neurovirology and Neurodegenerative Disorders, and James Van Etten, William Allington distinguished professor of virology at UNL, who will serve as co-directors.

The grant supports the entire state of Nebraska in research, in education and in patient care. It also will help the state recruit scientists.

The NIH Center of Biomedical Research Excellence grants are aimed at increasing research capacity at the recipient institutions. The Nebraska Center for Viral Pathogenesis will use the $10.4 million, awarded over five years, to support research projects and key technical facilities needed by the center's researchers, recruit new scientists and students, and establish an administrative structure. Of the total grant, UNL will receive more than $6 million; UNMC, more than $3 million; and Creighton, more than $900,000.

Four major research projects, two at UNL led by Clinton Jones in veterinary and biomedical sciences and Robert Weldon in biological sciences, one at UNMC headed by Jialin Zheng in the Center for Neurovirology and Neurodegenerative Disorders, and one at Creighton University's School of Medicine led by Richard Bessen, will receive direct support from the grant. UNL's protein structural and microscopy facilities and UNMC's bioinformatics facility also will receive grant funds. The center's administrative offices will be housed at UNL but affiliated researchers will work on all three campuses.

Faculty recruitment is a critical component of the center proposal. The grant funds initial salary and start-up costs for five new researchers, four at UNL and one at UNMC. This is an outstanding example of collaborative efforts and is an initial success of research initiatives begun at UNL in the past year.

These stories, while vastly different in their content, exemplify the very nature of the University – working together to solve problems. This is the true measure of success.

Davison Gives Huskers Gifts of Grab and Gab

Matt Davison

By Shamus McKnight

It would be too easy to say that Matt Davison is a lucky player, someone who seems to always be in the right place at the right time.

Throughout his Husker career, the senior from Tecumseh has shown an uncanny knack for performing in the clutch. From his famous "Miracle in Missouri" touchdown catch in 1997, to his school-record 167 receiving yards versus Texas A&M as a sophomore, to his touchdown in the final seconds of the half against Iowa last month, Davison's sure hands have provided many memorable moments for the Huskers.

"It's not luck when things like that happen," Davison said. "It is preparation and understanding the game. Luck is not by chance. It is something you work for."

According to Davison, the plays that look so easy on the field are the result of running the same routes in practice thousands of times over the course of the past four years.

"As a receiver, it is something about repetition – doing things over and over – that makes it come naturally to you in a game," he said. "Coach Brown always says if you do something 11 times in a row it becomes a habit.

"If you focus and concentrate every time you do a repetition, it makes it so much easier to do in a game. I don't even have to think about it, I just do it. It is just an instinct."

So far, Davison's instincts have made him one of the top receivers in school history. Entering today's game with Baylor, the senior has hauled in 84 passes for 1,295 yards, totals that rank him second only to former Heisman Trophy winner Johnny Rodgers on NU's all-time receiving charts. He has caught at least one pass in 32 of the past 35 games dating back to his freshman season.

NU quarterback Eric Crouch said that Davison's sure hands and experience make him a valuable weapon in the Husker offense.

"The thing I have always liked about Matt is that he is so consistent," Crouch said. "He is the most consistent receiver we have in terms of running routes, catching balls and knowing where he is going to be. That all comes with experience. He makes things look a lot easier than they are, especially when he's catching the ball."

Receivers Coach Ron Brown said that Davison's outstanding hand earned him a chance for some playing time as a true freshman and has made him a fixture in the Husker lineup over the past four seasons. 3

Davison joined the Husker basketball last season and averaged 2.4 points per game in 15 contests.

"He's been reliable since day one," Brown said. "I think that probably the most impressive thing about Matt when he came in was that he had a good feel for the passing game. He has great eye-hand coordination and it was at a time where we needed to have someone in there with that type of eye-hand coordination. It was perfect timing for him, but he made it happen."

This season, Davison, who led the Huskers in receptions the past two seasons, has 12 catches for 228 yards, trailing only All-America candidate Tracey Wistrom in both categories. If he leads Nebraska in receptions this season, he will become only the third receiver to lead the Huskers in catches for three straight seasons.

So how does the 6-foot-1, 185-pound Davison always seem to find a soft spot in the opposing defense? Davison, who runs a deceptively fast 4.5 in the 40-yard dash, credits lessons learned during the early days of his Husker career.

"When I got here, there were guys who were bigger than me. Guys who were faster than me, and guys who were stronger than me," Davison said. "I knew that to get open, I would have to do other things that guys who run 4.3 in the 40 might not have to do.

"I understand geometry and angles, and those things make a receiver understand the game. If you run a precise route where you know where you are going and the defender does not, you are going to get open. I had to do all the little things to be able to play at this level."

Brown says that Davison's tenacity and competitiveness make him an outstanding receiver.

"He isn't the biggest or fastest guy in the world, but he has a clever side to him in terms of route running," Brown said. "He has tremendous tenacity and is an extremely competitive person. You wouldn't get that feeling when you are around him. He is very easy going, but when the lights go on, he is tenacious and loves to battle as well as anybody.

"When you put all that together, you have someone special, Brown said."

Throughout his career, Davison has shown a knack for making big receptions, leading the Huskers in receptions in each of the past two seasons. He ranks second on the NU all-time charts with 84 receptions and needs just five yards to reach 1,300 receiving yards for his career.

Davison poses with his ESPY Award for the Overall Play of the Year in 1997.

"You could be the best athlete in the world, and if you don't understand the game, have a good sense for what is going on and be able to react in different situations, you won't be able to step on the field," Davison said. "Coach Osborne said that 90 percent of the game is preparation mentally during practice. There is a lot of truth in that. I have been a student of the game since I was a young kid and have watched a lot of film. I have tried to maximize the abilities that I have been blessed with."

While Davison's on-field credentials are impressive, he is equally adept away from the gridiron. He carries a 3.36 grade-point average and is a two-time academic All-Big 12 selection. This year, he is a strong candidate for national honors, as he looks to continue Nebraska's string of Academic All-Americans, and finish up his degree next May.

A communication studies major, Davison uses his speaking skills in numerous roles off the field. Davison took some time out of his schedule earlier this week to speak at a "Tour of Excellence" stop in his hometown, stressing the importance of academics to elementary school kids, one of many community service projects with which he has been involved during his time at Nebraska.

Davison's engaging personality and strong communication skills make him one of the most requested Husker interviews among both the local and national media that cover Husker football.

"Matt is the media's 'go-to guy' when we are looking for a good sound bite," Jon Schuetz, KETV Sports Director, said. "The thing you are looking for on TV is people who are able to tell a story, and Matt does that very well. He has a great insight and brings a different perspective to the game."

KPTM Sports Director Travis Justice has covered Husker football for six years and believes that Davison puts nearly the same effort into his interviewing skills, as he does on the field.

"Being a great interview is like being a great player, Justice said. "It takes a lot of time and preparation. People are not always naturally good at interviews and it takes time to get better.

"Matt was not the best interview during his early days, but has put the effort in, learned the skills well and conducts himself well in front of the camera. If he is not the best interview in my six years, he would definitely rank in the top 2 percent."

Davison, who says that conducting interviews is one of the fun parts about being a student-athlete, understands that dealing with the media is important at a high-profile place like Nebraska.

"Sometimes, you get asked the same questions over and over again but, you have to have the patience to know that they are doing their job," Davison said. "Sometimes, we have bad days where you don't want to talk to people, but you know that they are doing their job and part of being a Nebraska player is dealing with those things. You have to put on the game face and do the interview. I've done many interviews where I have not been in a good mood, especially after a loss, but is something you do as an athlete."

Constantly dealing with the media in college has made Davison think about a career in broadcasting following his playing days.

"Being a broadcaster on television or even radio is something I have thought a lot about," he said. "Their jobs interest me, and I talk to them a lot about their jobs and how they go about things. It is something I think I could excel at if I put a lot of work into it. If the right situation came about, I would give it a shot because I would like to stay around athletics."

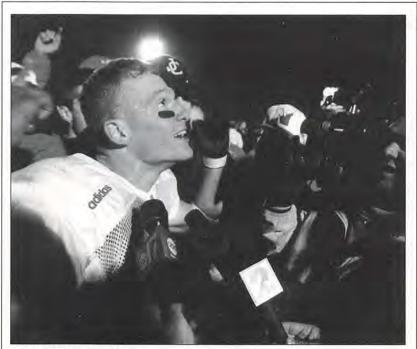

If Davison is interested in joining the ranks of former Huskers Trev Alberts (CNN) and Jon Kelley (Fox Sports Net), both Schuetz and Justice agree that Davison would have a successful TV career.

"Matt is very personable and knows how to network with people," Justice said. "That is an important thing to do in this business."

"With his personality, sense of humor and knowledge of the game, he could be a star in this business," Schuetz said.

Wherever his post-football career leads, Davison is savoring every moment of his final season as a Husker.

"I am trying to cherish every game, every practice and every time I'm with this program," Davison said. "I had a chance to reflect on the things I have accomplished in my career and the goals I still have for this year, and it makes me work harder and appreciate the things that people have done for me. Hopefully, I have done some things along the way to make it fun for them too."

- ▶ Single-Game School Record for Reception Yards (167 vs. Texas A&M, 1998)
- ▶ 1997 ESPY Awards for College Football Play of the Year and Overall Play of the Year

Noting Davison:

Matt Davison has firmly established himself as one of the top receivers in school history. He ranks second in both receptions (84) and receiving yards (1,295) and has five career touchdown receptions. Davison led the Huskers in catches in both 1998 (32) and 1999 (29), and if he leads NU in receptions this season, he would become only the third player in school history to lead Nebraska in receptions for three straight seasons.

The University of Nebraska Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, as an integral part of the University's educational mission, is committed to a comprehensive athletics program, Dedicated to Excellence.

Bill Byrne

Director of Athletics Eighth Year

When Director of Athletics Bill Byrne came to the University of Nebraska in 1992, he had a vision. His plan was to balance the budget, provide a stable financial base to build successful programs into the next millennium, provide complete and integrated services for Husker student-athletes, improve NU's aging facilities for the benefit of student-athletes and fans, and make Nebraska the best athletic program in the nation.

Now in his eighth year at NU, Byrne continues to passionately pursue his vision.

Improving facilities to pave the way to success has been a priority. Facility upgrades were not only needed to recruit the nation's top athletes, but to provide improved fan amenities and fan safety. The 1999 season unveiled NU's biggest project yet, the $36.1 million Memorial Stadium Improvement Project, which includes much more than just 42 skyboxes and a press facility. Most impressively, the project provides a sound financial base for the future. Memorial Stadium improvements began with the addition of two Husker Vision replay boards in 1994, allowing Nebraska to become the first collegiate-owned venue to feature replay boards for its fans. Memorial Stadium was renovated to include an expanded training room, improved locker rooms, a new public address system, expanded restrooms, improved concession areas and improved seating for disabled fans. Complete waterproofing and concrete repair will continue throughout the stadium into the next decade.

Facility updates do not end with the football program. The University of Nebraska-Lincoln, the City of Lincoln and Lincoln Professional Baseball broke ground on a new $32.1 million baseball/softball complex in April. Byrne led fund-raising efforts for the complex, which will house the NU baseball and softball teams as well as a new Northern League franchise. Opening in the spring of 2001, the baseball stadium will boast a capacity of 6,000 and will feature 16 skybox suites. The softball stadium, opening during the fall of 2001, will have a capacity of 2,500.

The Bob Devaney Sports Center has received more than $7.9 million in improvements, including the addition of HuskerVision screens. The project also included improved fan amenities, better seating for disabled fans and a complete upper concourse renovation with a Hall of Honor, Husker Timeline and other exhibits commemorating a century of NU athletics.

The track and field program benefited from the $2 million Ed Weir Outdoor Track Project completed before the 2000 outdoor season. Track and field will also receive a $2.9 million indoor track renovation at the Devaney Center next year.

In 1998-99, the Abbott Sports Complex received a new press facility, which helped secure three home games in the NCAA Women's Soccer Championships in 1999. The women's rifle program also kicked off its first season with a new shooting range. In 1997-98, the NU Softball Complex received a new press box and exit plaza. The NU Coliseum received a new volleyball ready room, and new infield turf was installed at Buck Beltzer Baseball Stadium.

Over the past five years, the Athletic Ticket Office relocated to the Stadium Drive Parking Garage, along with the Huskers Authentic retail store, and the Athletic Marketing and Development offices moved to the South Stadium Office Building. Improvements and reorganization of the offices within the athletic department have helped make Nebraska more user-friendly and better utilizes Byrne's plan of "one-stop shopping" for fans and student-athletes. He also reorganized Nebraska's fund-raising efforts and started an integrated marketing and licensing program, which quickly took its place among the top five revenue-generating programs in the country. Byrne orchestrated these improvements while balancing the budget. NU had a $2.5 million deficit when Byrne arrived in 1992. While operating on a $39 million budget, the deficit is gone and the athletic program now provides more than $40 million in economic impact to the Lincoln community each year.

He has made 10 coaching hires in the last seven years, and his knack for recognizing young, charismatic talent is evident. Byrne hired Dan Kendig in 1994 for women's gymnastics (advanced to the NCAA Championships in five of the last six seasons, including a school-best fourth-place finish in 2000); women's soccer coach John Walker in 1994 (advanced to the NCAA Championships four straight seasons, including Elite Eight finishes in 1996 and 1999); Paul Sanderford for women's basketball in 1997 (earned NCAA tournament berths each of his first three seasons); Bill Straub for women's bowling in 1997 (won the national title in 1999); Dave Van Horn to lead the baseball program in 1998 (won back-to-back conference tournament titles in 1999 and 2000 and advanced to the NCAA Super Regionals in 2000); football coach Frank Solich in 1997 (guided Nebraska to a Big 12 title and No. 2 final ranking in 1999) and Karen Anthony for women's rifle in 1998 (finished third at NCAA Championships in program's second season). Volleyball coach John Cook, wrestling coach Mark Manning and men's basketball coach Barry Collier will all begin their first seasons at NU during 2000-2001.

During Byrne's tenure in Lincoln, Nebraska became only the second school in NCAA history to win three national football titles in a four-year span. NU has produced six national championships (women's bowling, volleyball, men's gymnastics and three football), 53 regular-season league titles, and 10 conference tournament titles under Byrne's leadership. He has helped increase Nebraska's conference-leading athletic program to 24 sports with the additions of women's soccer (1994), women's bowling (1997-98) and women's rifle (1998-99) and has been a strong supporter of complying with Title IX without hurting Nebraska's century-old men's programs. In the past six years, Byrne has promoted three women to senior administrative positions. Nebraska is the only school in the nation with a woman in charge of football operations and one of just a handful of Division I football schools to have a woman directing its sports information department.

Byrne has continued to make great strides in helping Nebraska improve its rank among the nation's elite, even though the Huskers entered the powerful Big 12 Conference in 1996. During the 1999-2000 season, Nebraska:

- ▶ finished in the top 20 nationally in 16 sports (football, volleyball, soccer, baseball, bowling, women's cross country, women's golf, men's gymnastics, women's indoor and outdoor track, rifle, men's and women's swimming, wrestling and softball).
- ▶ recorded its fifth consecutive top-15 finish in the Sears Directors' Cup standings with a sixth-place showing in Division I.
- ▶ won seven regular-season Big 12 championships (football, soccer, volley-ball men's indoor and outdoor track and women's indoor and outdoor track) and three Big 12 tournament championships (baseball, soccer, and softball).

Byrne was hired to replace legendary coach and athletic director Bob Devaney on June 26, 1992, becoming the 11th Nebraska Director of Athletics after 10 successful years at the University of Oregon. Highly respected among his peers, Byrne was named the Central Region NACDA/Continental Athletic Director of the Year along with being recognized by the American Football Coaches Association in 1999. Byrne was vice-president and secretary-treasurer of the College Football Association and has served on the NCAA Special Committee on Marketing and Licensing and the Committee on Special Events.

Byrne is recognized as a national leader in collegiate athletics and continues to make an aggressive effort to place conference officials on key NCAA committees to represent Big 12 institutions. In 1999, he served as the chairman of the Big 12 Conference Board of Athletic Directors and has had an active voice in conference planning.

Before coming to Nebraska, Byrne became one of the youngest directors of athletics in Division I, assuming the top job at Oregon in May 1984. He established fund-raising offices in Portland and southern Oregon and set up a full-time marketing and promotions operation, which blossomed to encompass the Oregon Sports Network for statewide in-house production of Ducks games on radio and television. Byrne led the $19 million fund drive that resulted in new homes for Oregon's football team and athletic offices. He was responsible for the construction of a new press box, sky suites and total renovation of Autzen Stadium in 1991. Two years later, the facility's Hall of Champions was dedicated in Byrne's honor.

Byrne grew up in Idaho and attended Idaho State. He was the student body president and received bachelor's and master's degrees in business from Idaho State in 1967 and 1971. Before going to Oregon in 1982, he was assistant athletic director at San Diego State (1980-82), executive director of the New Mexico Lobo Club (1976-79) and director of alumni relations at Idaho State (1971-76).

Byrne's wife, Marilyn, is the dean of graduate studies in educational leadership at Doane College and earned her Ph.D. in higher education administration from NU. The Byrnes have two sons and two grandsons. Greg and Regina Byrne and their sons, Nicholas, 5, and Davis, 3, live in Junction City, Ore., where Greg is an associate athletic director at Oregon State. Bill is a vice president for Visa in its world-wide computer center located in San Mateo, Calif.

Frank Solich

Head Coach Third Year

Few college football coaches have faced a more daunting task than the one that greeted Frank Solich when he took over the Nebraska football program in 1998. After all, the Husker program had won three national titles in four seasons and posted an unprecedented 29 straight nine-win seasons.

But while his challenge was great, there was no other coach as prepared for the task as Solich, a veteran assistant in the Nebraska program. Solich is a product of the Nebraska football program that has been the model of stability, consistency and excellence in collegiate athletics for nearly 40 years. Those qualities were established by Coach Bob Devaney, then carried on for a quarter century by his successor, Tom Osborne.

That stability was the primary reason that on Dec. 10, 1997, just moments after Osborne announced his retirement, Solich was named the 26th head coach in Nebraska's 110 years of football tradition. Solich fits the Husker model for success. Just as Osborne was groomed by Devaney to be the head coach, Solich was Osborne's heir-apparent. He served on Osborne's staff for 19 seasons, first for four seasons as the head freshman coach and for 15 years as running backs coach. His last seven years as an assistant, Solich had the additional duties of assistant head coach.

Now entering his third season as head coach, he has proved to be the right choice to lead one of the nation's elite football programs. Solich has guided the Huskers to a 21-5 record in the past two years, the most wins by a Nebraska coach in his first two seasons at the helm. In fact, the 31-21 win over Tennessee in the 2000 Tostitos Fiesta Bowl tied Solich for third all time in victories in the first two seasons of a college coaching career.

The 2000 season is one of great anticipation for the Husker staff, players and fans as Solich's squad appears primed for a national title run. Nebraska returns 20 starters from last year's 12-1 campaign, including 11 on the offensive side of the ball.

Last year was a special one for Solich and his team. A midseason loss at Texas damaged Nebraska's national championship hopes, but Solich rallied his troops for an impressive stretch run. Nebraska faced possibly the nation's toughest fivegame slate to end the season, but the Huskers answered with authority.

Nebraska shut out defending Big 12 champion Texas A&M, 37-0, then came back a week later to rout previously unbeaten Kansas State, 41-15. Against a dangerous Colorado team in Boulder, Solich led the Huskers to a gutsy overtime win, setting the stage for Nebraska's most impressive outing of the 1999 campaign.

The Huskers avenged their only loss of the season with a dominating 226 win against Texas in the Big 12 Championehip game in San Antonio. The win made Nebraska the first team to capture two Big 12 titles and gave Solich his first league crown in just his second season.

Solich's Huskers completed their late-season charge with a show of force against Tennessee in the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl. Nebraska manhandled the No. 6 Volunteers with a rushing attack that churned out 321 yards, including 238 after halftime and wore down a talented Tennessee defense. The Huskers finished the season ranked second nationally by the Associated Press and third in the USA Today/ESPN Coaches Poll.

The Huskers' 1999 team success was largely attributed to Solich's calm and confident direction. He confidently made tough on- and off-field personnel decisions early in the season, then watched as the Huskers responded by developing cohesive offensive and defensive units, as well as exceptional special teams forces. Solich's role in Nebraska's championship season was recognized. He was chosen as Big 12 Coach of the Year by both his coaching peers in the conference and the Associated Press.

The 1999 Huskers were dominant on defense, ranking in the nation's top six in all four major defensive statistical categories, including fourth in total defense. Nebraska wasn't far behind on offense. The Husker ground game captured the league rushing title for the 12th straight season and ranked fourth nationally, averaging 265.9 yards per game. And like Osborne's teams and Solich's first squad, the Huskers boasted a strong special teams unit, ranking 12th in the nation in net punting and recording 10 blocked kicks during the season.

Nebraska's 12-1 season marked the seventh season with 12 or more wins, its fourth in the 1990s and sixth in Solich's 21 seasons on the Husker coaching staff.

In Solich's first season as head coach, the Huskers posted a 9-4 record, the 30th straight season Nebraska had won nine or more games. In addition, Nebraska's appearance in the Culligan Holiday Bowl marked the 30th straight year the Huskers had played in a postseason contest. Solich's nine victories in 1998 equaled the totals of his two Hall-of-Fame predecessors, Devaney and Osborne, who each won nine games in their first season as Nebraska's head coach.

Nebraska's success in 1998 came in the face of a great deal of adversity that could have made a lesser program shake. The Huskers opened the season with one of their least experienced squads in many seasons. Throughout the year, Solich's leadership was tested by a rash of injuries that hit the 1998 team. In all, nine projected starters missed a total of 45 games, forcing Solich to put a different starting lineup on the field nearly every

Despite the youth and injuries Nebraska's four losses were by a total of just 24 points and all against teams who finished the season ranked among the nation's top 15.

Nebraska's first-year transition from Osborne to Solich as head coach was very smooth. Like Osborne, Solich served as his own offensive coordinator and like all of Osborne's teams, the 1998 Huskers were among the 12-best, averaging 253.8 yards per game on the ground and ranking sixth nationally in rushing.

Nebraska's defense was strong in 1998, ranking 22nd in total defense, 16th in rush defense and 11th in scoring defense. The Huskers also boasted a strong special teams unit, ranking seventh in the nation in net

The most important aspect of Solich's promotion to head coach may be that it kept the veteran Husker coaching staff intact. All of Osborne's assistants remained on Solich's first staff. The current Husker coaching staff has a combined 132 years of experience at Nebraska and entering his third season, Solich has had to hire just two assistant coaches, including one to replace himself. That experience allowed Solich to begin his head coaching career surrounded by familiar faces and ideas.

The 55-year-old Solich can trace his ties to the Nebraska football program back to the beginning of the Devaney era and the turnaround of Nebraska football. Solich was part of Devaney's first recruiting class at Nebraska and became a standout fullback for the Huskers in the mid-1960s, lettering in 1963, 1964 and 1965. His playing career earned him induction into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame in 1992.

While some remember Solich for his playing days, most Husker followers are more familiar with his work on Osborne's staff. Noted as one of the nation's top assistant coaches, Solich was tabbed Athlon Magazine's Assistant Coach of the Year before the start of the 1993 season.

Solich has been one of the primary factors in making Nebraska the model for the running game in college football. In nine of Solich's 15 seasons as running backs coach, Nebraska led the nation in rushing and finished in the top four every year. In the same period, the Huskers led the conference in rushing 13 times, including each of the last 10 seasons, and finished second in 1986 and 1987. In fact, NU churned out more than 350 yards per game while Solich guided the running backs.

Solich, who recruited and coached 1983 Heisman Trophy winner Mike Rozier, produced at least one all-conference running back in 13 of the 15 seasons he tutored that position.

In 1997, Solich's final season as running backs coach, Nebraska won its fifth NCAA rushing title in the 1990s, averaging 392.6 yards per game. Leading the way was junior I-back Ahman Green who earned All-Big 12 and second-team All-America honors. Green rushed for 1,877 yards, the second-best single-season total in NU history, and 22 touchdowns and capped his season with an Orange Bowl record 206 vards rushing against Tennessee. Green opted to turn pro after his junior year, but his 3,880 career yards rank him as the No. 2 rusher in NU history behind Rozier.

Green's 1997 season continued a run of excellent seasons by Husker

I-backs. However, it is not just the I-back position that makes the Nebraska running game strong.

Husker fullbacks have been equally important to the ground game for the last three decades, dating back to Solich's playing days in the 1960s. NU's fullback play has never been stronger than in 1997 and 1998, when Joel Makovicka manned the position. Under Solich as a junior, Makovicka rushed for 685 yards and tied the Husker fullback record with nine touchdowns. In 1998, Makovicka broke the school record for career touchdowns by a fullback.

In 1996, Solich had a

2,000 yards, despite a series of injuries. Green was a third-team All-Big 12 selection as a sophomore, rushing for a team-high 917 yards. True freshman DeAngelo Evans chipped in 776 yards and scored 14 touchdowns. In 1995, Green broke the school's freshman rushing record with 1,086 yards and earned first-team All-Big Eight honors. He was also named the league's offensive newcomer of the year.

Green was the final addition in a long line of running backs who earned postseason honors and racked up record numbers under Solich. Green became the seventh Husker I-back to be a two-time all-conference selection under Solich, joining Rozier (1982-83), Doug DuBose (1984-85), Keith Jones (1986-87), Ken Clark (1988-89), Derek Brown (1991-92) and Calvin Jones (1992-93). In addition, Lawrence Phillips earned first-team All-Big Eight and second-team All-America honors in 1994, en route to the third-best single-season rushing total in school history. Solich-coached running backs own 20 of NU's 28 200-yard single-game rushing performances, while he accounted for one of the other eight himself. In addition, Solich tutored seven of the top eight performers on the school career rushing list, including each of the top four.

The dominant Husker running game has keyed an offense that has helped make Nebraska the most successful college football program in the last 30 years. Osborne won 255 games in his 25 years, with Solich on the staff for the last 200 of those victories. In fact, Nebraska teams that Solich has been a part of for the last 21 years have posted an amazing 221-38-1 record, for an .852 winning percentage.

In Solich's 19 years as an assistant on the NU staff, the Huskers captured three national championships, all while Solich was assistant head coach. In the same period, he was on the staff of 11 conference championship teams, 19 postseason bowl squads and 15 teams that finished the season ranked in the nation's top 10.

Nebraska running backs have succeeded by developing the same work ethic that made Solich a standout fullback. Despite weighing less than 160 pounds, Solich was an All-Big Eight fullback and co-captain of the Huskers' 1965 team.

Solich holds the NU single-game rushing record for a fullback with a 204-yard outing against Air Force in 1965. In fact, that performance stood as the NU game record by any player for 10 years, and Solich still ranks 48th on NU's career rushing chart with 1,010 yards. He rushed for 444 yards as a junior in 1964 and was second on the team in 1965 with 580 yards. Solich still holds the Orange Bowl record for return yards with 166 in 1966.

The teams Solich played on started the winning tradition Nebraska has enjoyed for the last 37 years. The Huskers posted records of 9-2, 10-1, 9-2 and 10-1 while Solich was on the roster, won three conference titles and played in four straight bowl games. The 1965 Husker team completed the regular season unbeaten and in position for a national championship, but lost 39-28 to Bear Bryant's Alabama team in the Orange Bowl.

Solich also lettered in baseball for the Huskers in 1965.

A native of Cleveland, Solich prepped at Holy Name High School where he earned all-state, All-America and all-scholastic He received his honors. bachelor's (1966) and master's (1972) degrees from Nebraska.

After his playing days, Solich began his coaching career in the Nebraska prep ranks. He was the head coach at Holy Name High School in Omaha in 1966 and 1967. His Holy Name teams were 8-8 in two years and the 1967 team was state runner-up. After two seasons in Omaha, Solich moved to one of the top high school programs in the state at Lincoln Southeast. With Solich in charge of the Knight program, Southeast compiled a 66-33-5 record in 11 years. His Southeast teams captured back-to-back Class A state titles in 1976 and 1977. For his efforts, Solich was named the Lincoln Journal Star Nebraska boys prep coach of the year in 1978. A number of Solich's players at Southeast moved across town to play for Nebraska.

Solich himself made the move to Nebraska before the 1979 season. His first assignment on Osborne's staff was head freshman coach. In 1979, the young Huskers were 4-1, losing only at Missouri. Solich's 1979 team won its final game, beginning a 24-game winning streak for the freshmen that stretched to 1984. Solich finished his four years as freshman coach with a 19-1 record, before taking over as coach of the running backs in 1983.

With Solich coaching the backs, Nebraska's running attack had unparalleled success in college football. The biggest honor for a Solichcoached back came in the 1983 season when senior Mike Rozier captured the Heisman Trophy after rushing for 2,148 yards and 29 touchdowns. While no one has matched Rozier's season, Nebraska consistently produced some of the nation's top backs under Solich.

In 1984, Nebraska had two first-team All-Big Eight runners as sophomore

"One of the things you look for in a head football coach is leadership. But the thing I think that sets Frank apart is not only the leadership he has, but the genuine respect that our coaches, our staff and our athletes have for him. Frank has maintained the continuity and stability of the program, which is exactly what every school in the country is striving to attain."

Doug DuBose and senior Jeff Smith combined to rush for 1,975 yards and 15 touchdowns. As a junior, DuBose gained 1,161 yards to rank ninth nationally in rushing. His 1985 season earned him all-conference and second-team All-America honors. DuBose's backfield running mate in 1985, fullback Tom Rathman, was also an All-Big Eight selection, as he gained 881 yards, a single-season record for Husker fullbacks.

DuBose was primed for a run at the Heisman before a knee injury ended his Husker career in 1986 fall camp. In his absence, Keith Jones earned all-league honors by gaining 830 yards and scoring 14 touchdowns. Jones became Solich's second two-time All-Big Eight selection in 1987 by gaining 1,232 yards and 13 TDs and averaging a whopping 7.3 yards per

Solich's I-back excellence continued in 1988 and 1989 with Ken Clark, who earned back-to-back first-team all-conference honors. Clark posted the then-third-best junior season in NU history in 1988, rushing for 1,497 yards and 12 touchdowns. In 1989, he added 1,196 yards and 14 touchdowns to rank fourth on the Husker career rushing list with 3,037

After one season without an all-league back, the Husker "we-backs" hit the scene in 1991. Sophomore Derek Brown ran through the opposition for 1,313 yards and 14 TDs to earn first-team All-Big Eight and third-team All-America honors. Also in 1991, Calvin Jones was named Big Eight Freshman of the Year after rushing for 900 yards, including an NU singlegame record 294 yards and six touchdowns at Kansas.

In 1992, Brown and Jones shared time in the Husker backfield and both earned all-league honors. Brown rushed for 1,011 yards, while Jones had 1,210 yards and 14 touchdowns.

After Brown moved on to the NFL following his junior season, Jones was left to carry the load in 1993. Despite an early-season knee injury that ended his Heisman hopes, Jones earned all-league honors by rushing for 1,043 yards and 12 scores and helping the Huskers to within a missed field goal of a national title. Jones finished his career with 3,153 yards to rank third in career rushing at Nebraska. He also captured the Big Eight rushing crown his final two seasons, the fourth player to earn that title under Solich, joining Rozier (1983), DuBose (1984) and Keith Jones (1986).

Calvin Jones' early departure to the NFL left the I-back duties in the hands of sophomore Lawrence Phillips in 1994. Phillips responded in record fashion, running for a Nebraska sophomorerecord 1,722 yards and 16 touchdowns to earn All-Big Eight and second-team America honors. He also finished eighth in the Heisman trophy for a Nebraska player Tom Osborne (18). in 10 seasons.

Solich's 21 wins in his first two seasons at Nebraska ranks balloting, the highest ahead of NU Hall of Fame coaches Bob Devaney (19) and

In 1995, Solich started four different players at the I-back spot, including Ahman Green, who set the Husker frosh rushing record. Despite the unsettled situation at I-back, the Huskers didn't miss a beat, averaging just less than 400 yards per game and racking up an NCAA bowl-record 524 yards rushing in the Fiesta Bowl win over Florida.

In his 22 years on the Husker staff, Solich has been one of the nation's top recruiters. As an assistant, Solich primarily recruited the eastern part of the United States, but he also has recruiting experience in the Midwest. He has routinely brought prep All-America players to the Heartland. Several players Solich recruited to Nebraska have gone on to professional careers, including Irving Fryar, Brian Washington, Mike Croel, Tyrone Legette, Donta Jones and Doug Colman. Solich's ability to bring top talent to Lincoln has been evident in his first three recruiting classes as head coach. Solich's first three classes have included a combined 31 prep All-Americans and players from 18 different states, plus Canada. All three classes have been ranked in the nation's top 20, including the 2000 class, generally regarded as a top 10 class.

Solich's duties as an assistant coach under Osborne included several administrative roles. From 1983 to 1997, Solich was the director of the University of Nebraska Football Camp and the director of the University of Nebraska Football Coaches Clinic.

Since Solich took over the camp in 1983, the Husker camp numbers tripled to the current enrollment of 1,700 athletes per summer. Solich's work has also made the Nebraska coaches clinic one of the nation's largest events of its kind. When he took over the project in 1983 the average attendance was about 200 high school coaches. The 2000 clinic attracted more than 1,200 coaches from across the nation.

As Osborne's assistant head coach for seven seasons, Solich was the No. 2 spokesperson for the football team. He represented the Husker football teams in meetings with the NCAA, Big Eight and Big 12 conferences, as well as media gatherings.

Solich is married to the former Pamela Wieck of Beatrice, Neb., and they have two children, Cindy and Jeff (wife, Chara). Cindy and her husband, Jon Dalton, have a 5-year old daughter, Catherine, and a 3-year old son, Aaron. Jeff and Chara gave the coach and Pam their third grandchild with grandson Cade, who will celebrate his first birthday this October.

Husker Football Assistant Coaches

Craig Bohl Defensive Coordinator/ Linebackers

Craig Bohl enters his sixth season as a Nebraska assistant, prepared for added responsibility this fall. Bohl will continue to coach the Husker linebackers, as he has the past five years, but in 2000 he takes over for Charlie McBride as NU's defensive coordinator.

Bohl, a Lincoln native, rejoined the Nebraska football family in the spring of 1995. He played for Nebraska under Tom Osborne from 1977 through 1979 and served as a graduate assistant coach for the Huskers from 1981 through 1983. The 15-year collegiate coaching veteran is one of five former Husker players on staff.

In Bohl's five seasons on Nebraska's defensive staff, the Huskers have ranked no lower than 22nd nationally in total defense. During the 1999 season, Nebraska finished sixth or higher nationally in all four major defensive categories, including fourth in total defense at 252.3 yards per game.

A strong recruiter, Bohl recruits Houston, as well as much of the Pacific Northwest, both areas with ample talent.

Bohl spent the 1994 campaign as Duke's defensive coordinator and inside linebackers coach, and was instrumental in one of college football's biggest turnarounds. Bohl helped the Blue Devils to an 8-4 record (a fivegame improvement from a 3-8 mark in 1993) and a berth in the Hall of Fame Bowl, the school's first postseason appearance since 1989.

Before moving to Duke with Coach Fred Goldsmith, Bohl spent five seasons as Goldsmith's defensive coordinator at Rice. During his Rice tenure, three of his linebackers earned All-Southwest Conference honors.

Before his stint at Rice, Bohl spent two seasons (1987-88) at Wisconsin as linebackers coach, a pair of campaigns (1985-86) as the linebacker mentor at Tulsa and a season (1984) as the secondary coach at North Dakota State.

Bohl is married to the former Deanna Hauptman of Nebraska City, and they have 9-year-old twin daughters, Mallory and Morgan, and a 6-year-old son, Aaron. Deanna graduated from Nebraska in 1983 with a marketing degree.

Nelson Barnes Rush Ends

Nelson Barnes enters his fourth season as a Husker assistant coach, charged with continuing Nebraska's long tradition of outstanding defensive ends.

In his first three seasons on the Nebraska staff, Barnes has been a part of outstanding defenses that helped the Huskers to a Big 12 and national title in 1997 and a conference title last season.

Barnes, who came to Nebraska after three seasons at the University of Texas, is the only person in the Big 12 Conference with three league football championship rings. He collected his first ring when the Longhorns defeated Nebraska for the inaugural Big 12 title in 1996.

The 1996 title season was Barnes' third and final campaign on Coach John Makovic's Texas staff.

In 1999, Barnes' rush ends helped the Huskers to a school-record 53 sacks and 112 tackles for loss. The Husker defense ranked in the nation's top six in all four major defensive categories, including fourth in total defense.

Barnes plays an integral part in Nebraska's recruiting success. His primary areas of recruiting responsibility include Houston, southern Louisiana, as well as other parts of the Southeast.

Barnes was familiar with Nebraska not only from his years at Texas, but from the 1993 season he spent at Kansas State. In Manhattan, he served as the defensive line coach for head coach Bill Snyder. In 1993, Kansas State posted a 9-2-1 record and recorded the school's first bowl victory at the Copper Bowl.

Before his one-year stay at K-State, Barnes spent the 1991 and 1992 seasons as the defensive line coach at Western Illinois and assisted the 1991 team to the I-AA playoffs. He also served in the same role at Missouri Western in 1990.

Barnes' college coaching experience began at North Texas. He served as the defensive line/linebackers coach at the Denton, Texas, school from 1983 to 1989 and was a graduate assistant at the school in 1981 and 1982.

Barnes played at North Texas under Coach Hayden Fry and was a threeyear starter for UNT on the defensive line. He helped North Texas to backto-back 9-2 records in 1977 and 1978. Barnes earned a bachelor's degree in industrial arts from North Texas in 1982.

A native of Alvin, Texas, Barnes married the former Cydney Young on July 1, 2000.

Ron Brown Receivers

Ron Brown enters his 14th season as the Huskers' receivers coach. Although the Nebraska offense features a strong rushing attack, Brown's receivers have been an integral part to the Huskers' overall offensive success.

The Husker receiving corps has led the conference in touchdown receptions three times in his tenure.

Twenty-two of Brown's former pupils have gone on to professional careers, including tight end Johnny Mitchell, the New York Jets' 1992 first-round draft pick, Tyrone Hughes, who was a two-time NFL Pro Bowl selection with the New Orleans Saints and tight end Sheldon Jackson, who was a seventh-round pick of Buffalo in the 1999 NFL Draft.

Brown covers a key area for Nebraska's recruiting efforts, handling much of the western United States. In recent years, Nebraska secured a number of players from Arizona, Colorado, Utah and other western states, all Brown's areas of responsibility.

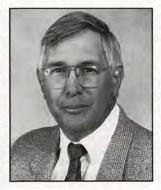

Brown joined Nebraska's staff after a four-year stint at Brown University in Providence, R.I. He spent one season as the Bears' head freshman coach in 1983, then moved up to the varsity staff and tutored the defensive backs for three seasons. He also served as the assistant to the athletic director in 1986.

A standout defensive back at Brown in the late 1970s and a member of the school's Sports Hall of Fame, Brown received his bachelor's degree from Brown in 1979, then earned his master's degree in health administration from Columbia University in 1982. He began his coaching career as defensive coordinator for the semi-pro New Jersey Rams in 1982, before moving to his alma mater in 1983.

Coach Brown hosts two statewide Christian radio shows. He has authored several books on Christian character and growth. His newest book "Miracle in Missouri" is scheduled to be released this fall.

Brown and former Husker Stan Parker are co-founders and co-directors of a statewide Christian ministry called "Mission Nebraska." The organization continues to run several Christian camps for lower income children throughout Nebraska.

Brown is married to Molvina Carter of San Diego, Calif., and they have two daughters, Sojourner Elaine, 5 and Bronwyn Pearl, 2.

George Darlington Defensive Backs

George Darlington, the dean of the Nebraska football coaching staff, is the only remaining member of Tom Osborne's original Husker staff. Darlington is beginning his 28th season at Nebraska and his 15th as the Huskers' secondary coach after tutoring the defensive ends for 13 seasons.

Darlington was a recipient of a 1998 All-American Football Foundation "Top Assistant Award." This summer the veteran assistant picked up another coaching honor, as his homestate of West Virginia honored the Charleston native with the first-ever George Cafego Award for distinguishment in the coaching profession. Cafego was a West Virginia native who was a consensus All-America halfback at Tennessee and finished fourth in the 1939 Heisman voting.

Darlington's secondary had a banner season in 1999 as seniors Mike Brown and Ralph Brown both received first-team All-America honors. Husker opponents completed less than 43 percent of their passes and the NU defense intercepted 18 passes, while allowing just 11 passing touchdowns.

Darlington plays a major role in bringing top talent to the Nebraska campus. The veteran assistant has been vital to landing top players from the state of California for several years and recently, Darlington has started a pipeline from the Hawaiian islands to Lincoln.

Before joining Osborne's staff in 1973, Darlington spent four seasons as an assistant coach at San Jose State. He coached two years at Johnson Regional High School in Clark, N.J., then started his collegiate coaching career at Lebanon Valley (Pa.) College, followed by one year at Dartmouth before going to San Jose State.

A 1961 graduate of Rutgers University with a bachelor's degree in history and physical education, Darlington earned his master's degree from Stanford in 1962. While at Rutgers, Darlington lettered in football in 1959 and 1960, and lettered twice in lacrosse, earning third-team All-America honors in 1961. George and his wife, Susan, have three children, Lisa, David and Julia, and four grandchildren.

Turner Gill Quarterbacks

Former All-Big Eight Husker signal caller Turner Gill enters his ninth season as Nebraska's quarterbacks coach.

In 1999, Gill tutored Eric Crouch to one of the top seasons ever by a Husker quarterback. Crouch compiled 2,158 yards of total offense, the fourth best in school history and tops by a Husker sophomore.

Gill's development of excellent quarterbacks is far from his only asset to the Husker staff. He is regarded as a strong recruiter, covering parts of Texas and Louisiana and all of Arkansas. Along with Dan Young, Gill also heads up the "Hire a Husker" program, which matches NU student-athletes with local businesses for summer employment.

As Nebraska's starting signal caller from 1981 through 1983, Gill led the Huskers to a 28-2 mark, including a 20-0 league record, and three conference titles.

A three-time All-Big Eight pick and a second-team All-American as a senior, Gill was the key to the Huskers' high-octane offense in 1983, a season in which NU I-back Mike Rozier won the Heisman Trophy and Gill finished fourth in the voting for collegiate football's top award. The 1983 team finished 12-1 and second in the final polls. In his four-year career (1980-83), Gill completed 231 of 428 passes for 3,317 yards, 34 touchdowns and a .540 completion percentage and rushed for 1,317 yards and 18 TDs. He is sixth on NU's all-time total offense chart with 4,634 yards.

A talented all-around athlete, Gill spent two seasons with the Canadian Football League's Montreal Concordes (1984-85) and three years (1986-88) in the Cleveland and Detroit minor league baseball systems. He left baseball and returned to his native state to the University of North Texas in 1989, where he was a volunteer assistant football coach and earned a B.A.. in behavior analysis in 1990.

Gill returned to Nebraska in 1990 and served as a graduate assistant on the Husker staff, then moved to SMU as a graduate assistant for the 1991 campaign. He served as the Mustangs' receivers coach for that season and was elevated to a full-time coaching position, but returned to Nebraska in August of 1992. Gill has taken graduate courses at both Southern Methodist and Nebraska.

He is married to the former Gayle DeBrie, of Kearney, Neb., and they have two daughters, Jordan, 10 and Margaux, 6.

Dave Gillespie Running Backs

Dave Gillespie is beginning his third season on the Husker coaching staff. While he is the newest member of the Husker offensive staff, Gillespie is certainly a familiar face in the Nebraska camp.

Gillespie was hired in the spring of 1998 to take Head Coach Frank Solich's position as the assistant coach in charge of running backs. In addition to his onfield duties, Gillespie also serves as Nebraska's recruiting coordinator.

The Nebraska running game has not missed a beat with Gillespie. Nebraska has captured consecutive Big 12 rushing titles the past two seasons, including the 1999 team that gained 265.9 yards per game on the ground to finish fourth nationally.

Gillespie's Nebraska ties are strong. He was a running back for the Huskers early in Tom Osborne's coaching career from 1974 to 1976. Gillespie began his coaching career in the Nebraska high school ranks, serving as an assistant coach at Lincoln High School from 1978 to 1981 before moving to Hastings High as head coach from 1982 to 1984. Gillespie rejoined the Nebraska staff as a graduate assistant for Osborne in the 1985 season and served as the Huskers' administrative assistant and recruiting coordinator from 1986 to 1993.

He returned to Nebraska after four seasons on the staff at the University of Kansas. He served as a Jayhawk assistant for three seasons (1994-96) under Glen Mason. He worked with the tight ends in 1994, before serving as defensive line coach in 1995-96. In 1997, Gillespie served as an administrative assistant for first-year Jayhawk coach Terry Allen.

During his eight-year span as recruiting coordinator at Nebraska (1986-93), Gillespie assisted in the recruitment of 15 All-Americans, which included three Outland Trophy winners (Will Shields, Zach Wiegert and Aaron Taylor), one Butkus Award winner (Trev Alberts), one Heisman Trophy runner-up (Tommie Frazier) and one Lombardi Award winner (Grant Wistrom). His last recruiting class (1993) posted a 60-3 five-year record, winning three national championships.

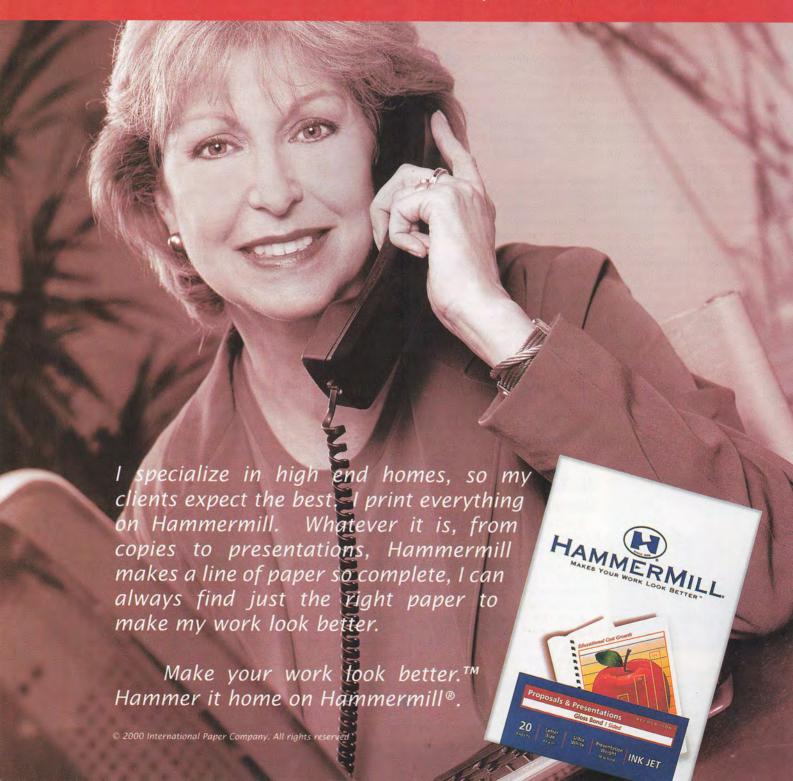

His strong record in overseeing Nebraska's recruiting efforts made Gillespie a natural fit to take over Solich's previous recruiting territory. Gillespie directs the Husker recruiting efforts in the majority of the eastern part of the United States, as well as Canada. In 1999, he also took over the talent-rich state of Florida.

Gillespie earned three letters as an I-back for the Huskers and earned his bachelor's degree from Nebraska in 1977. He received his master's degree in educational administration from the University of Nebraska in 1986.

Gillespie is married to the former Anne Van Pelt and they have three daughters, Katie, 19, Nicole, 16, and Emily, 13. Gillespie was born in the San Jose, Calif., area and graduated from Westmont High School in San Jose in 1973.

Jeff Jamrog Defensive Line

Former Husker defensive end Jeff Jamrog is the newest member of the Nebraska coaching staff. He replaces Charlie McBride as defensive line coach. Jamrog will coach the Husker defensive tackles and nose tackles.

Jamrog spent the last three years as defensive coordinator and inside linebackers coach at New Mexico State

At the Las Cruces, N.M., school,

Jamrog helped Head Coach Tony Samuel, a former Husker assistant, turn around a program that had just two winning seasons in the previous 31 years until 1999. Last year, the Aggies went 6-5, the first winning season at NMSU since 1992. Jamrog's defense ranked first in the Big West Conference and 14th in the country in pass efficiency defense. The Aggies ranked second in the conference in scoring defense and total defense, holding four opponents to a touchdown or less.

From 1994 to 1996, Jamrog was the defensive coordinator at Nebraska-Omaha under head coach Pat Behrns. His first year, Jamrog coached the defensive line, then moved to inside linebackers for the last two seasons. Jamrog helped the Mavericks win their first outright North Central Conference championship in 1996 and helped UNO make a turnaround from a 3-8 season in 1995 to a school-best 10-2 mark and No. 4 national ranking in 1996.

Prior to his stay at UNO, Jamrog spent four seasons as an assistant at South Dakota (1990-93), first under Coach John Fritch, then under Dennis Creehan. Jamrog helped Coach Creehan turn South Dakota around from a 1-8 season in 1991 to a 6-5 mark in 1993. At USD, Jamrog coached inside linebackers, was the special teams coordinator and also served as the academic coordinator.

Jamrog began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Nebraska during the 1988 and 1989 seasons, earning his master's degree and an NCAA postgraduate scholarship. His duties included serving as the special teams coordinator and coaching the inside linebackers.

A former walk-on for the Huskers, Jamrog played for the freshman team in 1983, redshirted in 1984, then lettered three years as a defensive end playing for Coach Samuel, his position coach. As a senior, Jamrog had 66 tackles including 47 solo stops, eight sacks and 13 tackles for loss. He earned the Guy Chamberlin Trophy, given to the senior player who has contributed to the betterment of the University of Nebraska football squad by his play and actions, in 1987.

Jamrog earned his bachelor of science degree in business administration from UNL in 1987 and his master's degree in business administration from UNL in 1990. He is married to the former Connie J. Hoeven and together they have three children, Elizabeth, 9, Brett, 7 and Jared, 4.

Milt Tenopir Offensive Line

Milt Tenopir heads into his 27th campaign as the Huskers' offensive line coach, the second-longest tenure on the NU staff. No college football program can boast the honors that Nebraska's offensive linemen have piled up during Tenopir's tenure.

In 1999 the Nebraska offensive line paved the way for yet another Big 12 rushing title, as NU averaged 265.9 yards per game on the ground.

The Huskers have won an amazing 11 NCAA rushing titles with Tenopir on staff, the most recent in 1997. That veteran unit paved the way for Nebraska to lead the nation in rushing for the fifth time in the 1990s, rushing for an average of 392.6 yards per game.

Tenopir's "Pipeline" played a major role in back-to-back national titles in 1994 and 1995. The 1994 unit keyed the Husker offense to 340.0 rushing yards per game. The 1983 Husker offense is recognized as one of the best in college football history. Nebraska averaged a school-record 401.7 rushing yards per game in that season.

Under Tenopir's guidance, Nebraska has produced six Outland Trophy winners and a pair of Lombardi Award honorees. In all, Tenopir has coached 18 All-Americans, 11 academic All-Americans, six NCAA Today's Top Eight Award winners and 46 all-conference selections. The Huskers have had at least one first-team all-conference lineman in each of Tenopir's 26 seasons on the sideline, while his Oline has had at least one academic all-conference selection for 22 straight years. From 1981 to 1983, the Huskers produced an unprecedented three straight Outland Trophy winners in Dave Rimington (1981-82) and Dean Steinkuhler (1983).

Tenopir has long been a strong force in Nebraska's recruiting success. He was the leading figure in Nebraska breaking the University of Oklahoma's stranglehold on the talent in the Sooner state. Tenopir also handles the recruitment of Kansas and west Texas. The veteran assistant is in charge of Nebraska's spring coaching clinic, which this past April brought about 1,200 high school coaches to campus.

He is the father of three grown children, Kim, Todd and Pamela, and has five grandchildren. Tenopir is married to the former Terri Richardson, and is the stepfather to Dana and Daniel.

Dan Young Offensive Line/Kickers

Dan Young enters his 18th season on the Nebraska coaching staff and his 15th as the Huskers' offensive line and kicking coach.

Under Young's guidance the Nebraska kicking game has been at its best, boasting the top place-kickers and punters in school history.

Young's punting team is consistently among the nation's best and ranked among the nation's top six in net punting from 1992 to 1994.

Young also played a key role in the coaching of a 1999 Husker offensive line that guided Nebraska to the Big 12 rushing title and No. 4 national ranking, averaging 265.9 yards per game. While Young has assisted with the offensive line, the Huskers have won eight NCAA rushing titles and three NU offensive linemen have won the Outland Trophy.

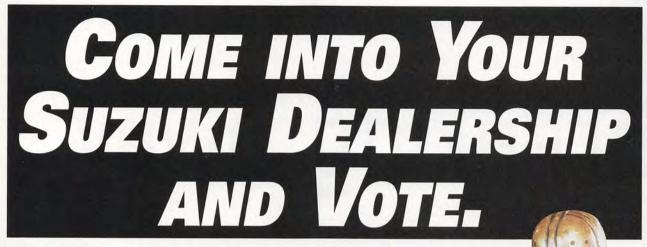

The veteran assistant heads up Nebraska's in-state recruiting efforts, in addition to recruiting several other Midwestern states. In the last three years, Nebraska has signed 22 in-state players to scholarships. Young also directs the Husker summer football camp, which annually attracts more than 1,700 prepsters to Lincoln. Young and fellow assistant Turner Gill also head up the "Hire a Husker" program, matching Husker student-athletes with summer employers.

Young became an offensive line coach with Milt Tenopir when Cletus Fischer retired from coaching after the 1985 season. Young spent three years (1983-85) as head freshman/junior varsity coach, posting a 14-1-0 record, before joining the varsity staff.

Young came to NU after six highly successful seasons as the head coach at Omaha's Westside High School, where his Warriors were 55-11-0 from 1977 to 1982, reached the state championship game three times and posted back-to-back 12-0-0 state title seasons in 1981 and 1982. Young began his coaching career as head coach at Barneston (Neb.) High School from 1962 to 1964. After a year as an assistant coach at St. Paul (Neb.) High School, he served as an assistant at Westside for 11 seasons.

A graduate of Primrose (Neb.) High School, Young received his bachelor's degree from Kearney State in 1962. He has done graduate work at Nebraska, Nebraska-Omaha, Missouri and Reed College and earned his master's degree in liberal studies from Reed in 1972.

He has a son, Jeff, a daughter, Kris and five grandchildren. Dan and his wife, Ronda, were married in the summer of 1995.

WHEN ALL THE BALLOTS WERE DELIVERED

breaking away

A brilliant season by Ohio State's Eddie George separated him from the pack en route to the 1995 Heisman Trophy.

hile a pair of quarterbacks was leading Nebraska and Florida on a collision course in the national championship game, Eddie George was making history at Ohio State.

The powerful halfback carved out a worthy name for himself among the great runners in Buckeye history with a 1995 season that earned him the Heisman Trophy. Although OSU would finish the year 9-3 and spend precious little time in the national title hunt—unlike the Cornhuskers' Tommie Frazier or the Gators' Danny Wuerffel—George's senior season in Columbus was still a magical one.

The Philadelphia native entered '95 as a formidable player, after gaining 1,353 yards as a junior. But he wasn't considered a serious Heisman candidate, largely because the Buckeyes had such a balanced offense.

Senior quarterback Bobby Hoying had thrown for 2,335 yards the previous year, the second-highest total in school history. There just wasn't thought to be enough opportunity for George to make a run at the trophy.

That talk changed in the season's second week, when George gained 219 yards against Washington. Two weeks later, he piled up 207 yards in a nationally televised, 45-26 rout of Notre Dame. All of a sudden, George's name was on the lips of Heisman voters. It made its way to their ballots on Nov. 11, when he set a school record with 314 yards in a rout of Illinois. George concluded the season with an OSU-best 1,927 yards and 24 TDs, and set a Buckeye mark for receptions by a back with 47. It was quite a resume. But it almost wasn't enough.

In Lincoln, Frazier was authoring a remarkable season. Just one year after being sidelined with a blood clot in his leg, he amassed 1,966 total yards to lead the Huskers to a school record for offensive output (5,476 yards) and touchdowns produced (79). Nebraska rolled to an 11-0 record, topping the 50-point mark on five different occasions and scoring 70 or more twice. The Huskers were a juggernaut, and Frazier was clearly the team's engine.

At Florida, Wuerffel was proving himself a worthy candidate, too, leading the Gators to an undefeated season and Southeastern Conference championship with his mastery of coach Steve Spurrier's Fun-n-Gun offense. Although Wuerrfel would finish third in the Heisman balloting, he won the award the following season.

Frazier put up a good fight, but '95 belonged to George. His margin of victory was relatively small (264 votes), but the trophy was his.

The Strength of Nebraska

Husker Women's Golf

Sarah Sasse

As the 2001 season approaches, expectations for the Nebraska women's golf program have risen to an all-time high.

NU Coach Robin Krapfl doesn't lie awake at night and wonder why. The Huskers produced a school history-making season in 2000 in which their list of accomplishments included a third-place Big 12 Conference finish, a ninthplace showing at the NCAA West Regional and an NCAA Tournament bid.

The question, Krapfl said, is whether the Huskers can improve upon last season's historic performances. The 13-year coaching veteran thinks they can.

"The girls have been to the NCAA Tournament," Krapfl said, "They know what it's like now, and they're going to want to get back there. I don't want to put too much pressure on them, but if everyone improves as they should from year to year, we will be an even stronger team than last year."

The Huskers have reason for optimism. Four of Nebraska's top five players from the 2000 NCAA Tournament squad return, including junior all-Big 12 Conference honoree Lincoln product Sarah Sasse.

Sasse, the 2000 Nebraska Women's Amatuer Golf Association Stroke Play Champion, led the Huskers with a 75.97 stroke average in 2000 and ranked sixth in the Big 12 in that category (76.37 regularseason average). The Lincoln High product placed eighth or higher in five of seven spring appearances in 2000. Sasse followed her successful spring with a second-place finish at the 2000 World University Golf Championships in Northern Ireland in July.

Other returning NCAA participants are Amy Roux, Catha Fogelberg and Amanda Sutcliffe. Krapfl said the Huskers will turn to Roux, the lone senior on the squad, for leadership. The Kearney High product finished third on the team with a 78.84 average last season.

Fogelberg, who became a go-to player for the Huskers early in the spring when she placed 12th or higher in three straight meets, will also likely remain in the Husker linup, as will Sutcliffe, who ranked fifth on the team as a sophomore with an 80.82 stroke average.

Sophomores Amanda Krane and Stephanie Schaefer and freshman walk-on Lesley Vaughn round out the squad. As a freshman, Krane cracked the Husker lineup twice during the spring and started for NU four times during the fall of 1999. Krapfl said all three golfers have the ability to contribute significantly.

Nebraska will compete in six tournaments during the fall before kicking off the 2001 season Feb. 23-25 at the Midwest Classic in Dallas, Texas. The Huskers will compete in six tournaments in the spring, including the April 23-25 Big 12 Championships hosted by Iowa State in Ames, Iowa.

"We have a solid schedule," Krapfl said. "We'll face a lot of teams that have NCAA Regional experience or that will compete for a regional bid, and that will only help us."

Husker Men's Go

Seth Porter

During the 1999-2000 season, the Nebraska men's golf team went through some serious growing pains. The Husker squad consisted of four freshmen (Rob Arthur, Jim Troy, Marty Smith and J.J. Sullivan) and sophomore Seth Porter after four of NU's best golfers completed their their eligibility after the 1999 season.

Now, with a year of experience under their belts, the young and talented Huskers should show marked improvement in 2000-2001.

"I knew heading into the season that with how young we were it was going to be a tough year," NU Coach Larry Romjue said. "So it was disappointing but not unexpected. When you lose four seniors it makes things hard, and I had no choice but to play some guys that I would have liked to redshirt. From that though, the team gained a lot of quality experience that will help us improve this season and in the seasons to come."

The Huskers have everyone back from the 1999-2000 team that was headlined by Arthur and Porter, who played in the No. 1 and No. 2 spots for NU all season.

Porter's best outing was in the Missouri/Purina Bluffs Invitational in St. Louis, Mo., where he tied for second with a three-round total of Arthur showcased his talent at the Southwest Classic in Victoria, Texas with a sixth-place finish, firing a three-round total of 220.

Troy, a native of Clarendon Hills, Ill., ended his 2000 season on a high note by placing 43rd at the Big 12 Championships. He was the highest-placing Husker and ended the championships with a three-round total of 231, including a first-round low of Both Smith and Sullivan had strong freshman campaigns. At his first collegiate competition, Sullivan tied for eighth at the Fairway Club Invitational. Smith didn't join the team until the beginning of the second semester but was able to contribute right away, helping the Huskers defeat

Rounding out the squad will be transfer Blake Humbles and Kearney native Jonathan Aten. Both will join the Huskers this fall.

"With all the guys we have coming back and the addition of a couple of recruits, I fully expect to have a better year," Romjue said. "I will be very disappointed if they don't use the knowledge they gained last year and improve this season. But I do know how tough the Big 12 Conference is and how difficult it is to move up. So I won't have unrealistic expectations for the team, but I do expect to see significant improvement."

Athletic Endowments

The Devaney Society

The University of Nebraska Athletic Endowment Program was established to ensure the quality of student-athletes who will represent the University in the future. In the past, Nebraska has been able to attract some of the best, brightest and most dedicated individuals to its academic classrooms and athletic programs by providing them with scholarships funded through athletic department revenue. To help offset the rising costs of supporting quality student-athletes, the Nebraska Athletic Endowment Program has established the Devaney Society, named in honor of Hall of Fame Coach Bob Devaney.

The following 12 scholarships have been established through the Nebraska Athletic Endowment Program specifically for Nebraska football team members.

The Brook Berringer Memorial Scholarship

The Brook Berringer Memorial Scholarship was endowed in memory of former Nebraska quarterback Brook Berringer, who died in a plane crash on April 18, 1996. Brook was the epitome of a backup quarterback-patient, but always prepared, both mentally and physically to take over when needed.

Berringer served as Tommie Frazier's backup in 1994 until the starter's season ended because of blood clots. With poise and grace, Berringer calmly led Nebraska to eight consecutive victories and to the national championship game against Miami in the Orange Bowl.

An excellent student, Berringer graduated in December 1995 with a degree in business administration. He was expected to be selected in the 1996 NFL Draft on April 20-21, possibly as the fifth or sixth quarter-back chosen, but did not get to live out his dream.

The Husker football program has established an award in his honor called the "Brook Berringer Citizenship Team."

The endowment was established by a benefit concert given on Aug. 27, 1997, by the members of the country singing group Sawyer Brown, who were friends of Brook Berringer.

Nebraska student-athletes who continued with graduate school received more than $86,500 in postgraduate scholarship money in 1999.

NU football players accounted for $57,000 of that total.

Memorial Stadium/Tom Osborne Field

Nebraska's continuing NCAA record of consecutive home sellouts passed the 200-mark in 1994 and is expected to reach 239 with six home sellouts in 2000. On Homecoming, Oct. 29, 1994, against the University of Colorado, Nebraska celebrated its 200th consecutive sellout. In 1999, Nebraska set a single-season home attendance record by averaging 77,729 fans for six home games, breaking the old record average of 76,342 set in 1988.

The string of consecutive sellouts started on Nov. 3, 1962, when 36,501 showed up for the Homecoming contest vs. Missouri. The last non-sellout in Memorial Stadium was Oct. 20, 1962, when the Huskers and Kansas State drew 30,701.

With the new additions for the 1999 season, the Cornhuskers' Memorial Stadium will have a seating capacity of 74,031, up from 72,700. Home attendance has averaged over 75,000 for the past 27 years, as NU has ranked in the top six nationally in attendance for many years.

In the fall of 1922, a drive for $430,000 in stadium construction funds was undertaken by faculty, students, alumni and friends of the University of Nebraska. The quota was over subscribed. The Stadium was named Memorial Stadium to honor all Nebraskans who served in the Civil and Spanish-American Wars; the 751 Nebraskans who died in World War I; the 3,839 in World War II; the 225 in Korea; and the 422 in Vietnam. Construction was completed in a few more than 90 working days and Memorial Stadium was dedicated on Oct. 20, 1923, at the Homecoming game in which Nebraska was held to a scoreless tie by Kansas.

Inscribed on the four corners of Memorial Stadium and preserved despite construction is the following words, written by former UNL professor of philosophy Hartley Burr Alexander:

Southeast: "In Commendation of the men of Nebraska who served and fell in the Nations Wars."

Southwest: "Not the victory but the action; Not the goal but the game; In the deed the glory."

Northwest: "Courage; Generosity; Fairness; Honor; In these are the true awards of manly sport."

Northeast: "Their Lives they held their countrys trust; They kept its faith; They died its heroes."

As part of the continuing improvement of athletic facilities at the University of Nebraska, several major projects have been completed throughout the past 76 years enhancing the facility. The $1 million Hewit Center performance buffet/study hall area was opened in March of 1985, underneath the West Stadium adjacent to the massive strength complex. The weight room and the Hewit Center were expanded and remodeled in 1989. The artificial turf was replaced again in 1992.

Prior to the fall of 1994, Nebraska installed two 17' feet high, by 23' feet wide replay boards, now known to Nebraska faithful as Husker Vision screens.

Following the 1997 season, construction began on a $36-million improvement project which was completed for the start of the 1999 season. Included in the improvements were the addition of a new press box facility and 42 skyboxes, each of which houses 25 spectators on game day. In addition, club seating rose from approximately 350 to 1,500 per game. The improvement project also tripled the number of restrooms on both the East and West sides of the stadium, doubled the number of concessions in both East and West concourses and included concrete repair and waterproofing throughout the stadium. The renovations raised the capacity of Memorial Stadium from 72,700 to 74,031. It is also noted that the original four inscriptions will remain visible for the generations to come. The 1999 season also marked the debut of a new artifical surface called FieldTurf, making Nebraska the first Division I program to use the new surface.

Seventy-Seven Years in Memorial Stadium

Nebraska football teams for the past 77 years have been glad to call Memorial Stadium home. Evidence for this is a 317-99-13 (.754) record posted by the Huskers in their home since it was opened in 1923.

Under the Lights

Nebraska's first night football game was Nov. 30, 1951, at Miami's Orange Bowl when the Huskers lost to the Miami Hurricanes, 19-7. Ironically, Nebraska's first night football game at home was the 1986 opener against another team from the "Sunshine State," Florida State. Nebraska is 41-13-3 all time under the lights, including 9-1-0 at home.

Memorial Stadium as it appeared in 1931, just eight years after the original construction of the facility. The project required $430,000 in funding.

The finishing touches of the latest Memorial Stadium improvement project were applied over the summer of 1999.

Memorial Stadium's newest renovations include a new media facility, enabling some 200 media officials to visit Lincoln every Saturday, as well as 42 state-of-theart skybox suites.

Memorial Stadium/Tom Osborne Field Landmark Dates

Here is the chronological order of Memorial Stadium expansion and improvement from the original 31,000-seat structure built in 1923:

1946--Completion of Schulte Field House at north end of stadium (construction began in 1941, but was interrupted by World War II)

1964--South end zone section installed, making the stadium a horseshoe, raising capacity to the 48,000 mark

1965--Center portion of north end zone section added, raising capacity to more than 53,000

1966--Both wings of the north end zone added, raising capacity to more than 65,000 and making Memorial Stadium into a bowl

1967--New press box, with guest section added, providing a beautiful and practical press facility

1970 -- Installation of AstroTurf

1972--South end zone extended, 9,400 seats added, raising capacity to 73,650

1973--Athletic office building completed, housing dressing and training facilities for varsity football

1977--Installation of new AstroTurf replacing the 1970 turf, and a new scoreboard over the North Stadium

1980--Completed top deck of press box for additional photo and visiting radio TV space

1981--New West Stadium weight room and new visitor's locker room in Schulte Field House

1982-Expansion of Schulte Field House indoor practice area

1984--New artificial All-Pro Turf playing surface installed

1985--Completion of Hewit Center (dining area/study hall) in West Stadium

1989 -- Expansion of strength complex and Hewit Center

1992 -- New Astroturf-8 artificial turf installed

1994--Installation of Mitsubishi Instant Replay boards and remodeling of Section 14 to accommodate disabled, reduced seating to 72,700

1995--South Stadium training room remodeled and new interview room and player lounge completed during season

1997-- Groundbreaking began on a $36-million stadium improvement project to take place over a two-year period. East concourse was renovated with new restrooms and concessions and the stadium lights were installed on the east side.

1998--Stadium was rededicated and the football field was named in honor of Hall of Fame Coach Tom Osborne on April 24, who retired as the winningest active coach in college football with a 255-49-3 career record. Lights installed on the west side.

1999--Stadium Improvement project completed, including 42 skyboxes, a club seating area, stadium view lounge, new media facility and renovated concourses, concessions and restrooms, raising the capacity to 74,056. FieldTurf was installed in August, making Memorial Stadium the first Division I collegiate program to use the synthetic surface.

Husker Women's Swimming and Diving

Therese Alshammar

After placing third at the 2000 Big 12 Championships, the Nebraska women's swimming team will look to regain a place among the conference elite this season.

The Huskers return 13 letterwinners from last season's squad which placed 20th at the 2000 NCAA Championships, extending NU's streak of top-20 finishes to eight straight years, the longest streak in the program's history.

The Huskers return a trio of NCAA qualifiers in senior Shandra Johnson and sophomores Lindsey Highstrom and Elvira Fischer. Johnson, an eight-time All-American, is one of the most successful swimmers in the program's history, earning conference swimmer-of-the-year honors in 1998 and 1999. Highstrom earned All-America honors on NU's 4x800-meter freestyle relay as a true freshman, while Fischer, who will compete for Austria in the Sydney Olympics, swept Big 12 titles in both the 100 and 200-meter backstroke, earning All-America status in the 100-meter backstroke.

In addition to the returnees, the Huskers also regain the services of Therese Alshammar, who sat out the 1999-2000 season to train for the Olympics. One of the world's top female swimmers, Alshammar broke four world records in three days at the 1999 European Short Course Championships and is a potential medalist at this year's Olympics. The Stockholm, Sweden, native placed fourth in both the 50 and 100-yard freestyle at the 1999 NCAA Championships, and the 14-time All-American's return this season greatly enhances the Huskers' hopes for another top-20 NCAA finish.

Annually, the Huskers compile one of the nation's toughest schedules to prepare for the Big 12 and NCAA meets. NU will play host perennial powers Virginia and UNLV, along with Division II Drury and Division III Kenyon, at the annual Husker Shoot Out and the adidas Sprint Classic in November. Perhaps the biggest non-conference challenge comes in February when Georgia, the two-time defending women's NCAA champion, and Michigan visit the Bob Devaney Sports Center Pool for a rare lateseason triangular meet with the Big Red.

"We face a difficult schedule," Bentz said. "If you look at years past, and you see the people we've invited in and the places that we have traveled to, you'll see a high level of competition."

Husker Men's Swimming and Diving

Javier Botello

To some, the 2000-2001 Nebraska men's swimming and diving season may appear like a chance to rebuild.

Gone are names synonymous with the program during the last four years, perhaps four of the most successful seasons in school history. Olympians Adam Pine, Carlos Asarta, Valery Kalmikovs and Michael Windisch all completed their eligibility. Gone, too, is All-America diver Erik Cook.

However, a closer look reveals that many of the key cogs of NU's 14th-place finish at the 2000 NCAA Championships remain.

Anchoring the squad will be senior Peter Fry and juniors Anthony Rogis, Carlos Oliva and Javier Botello. A total of 20 letterwinners return, including NCAA qualifiers Erik Wiken and Bert Locklin.

Although there will be many members of the team not competing for NU during the first semester due to their participation in the 2000 Olympics, Coach Cal Bentz doesn't think the team will be negatively affected.

"Once you change one area of the dynamic, the whole dynamic changes," Bentz said. "That will have to be an area that we focus on. As people come back to the team, we will integrate them into the team."

Couple the returning lettermen with the incoming freshmen, and the Huskers will bring a solid team to the table.

"We expect to have a much better team this year than we have had in years past," Bentz said. "Along with our returning players, we have some real strong recruits coming in."

returning lettermen are five swimmers who garnered All-America honors 2000 (Botello, Rogis, Fry, Wiken and Oliva). Of the five, Botello grabbed three All-American nods last season, while Rogis and Fry received two each.

Again this season, the Huskers will face a difficult schedule with defending national champion Texas, as well as top squads from SMU, UNLV and Virginia.

"Our goal is to always schedule the best teams," Bentz said. "We have to schedule teams that are at the level that we want to be at. It helps us stay at this level."

The Huskers will head to Austin, Texas, March 1-3 to compete at the Big 12 Championships. The season will conclude with the NCAA Championships in College Station, Texas, from March 22-24.

Husker Bowling

Bill Straub

The Nebraska women's bowling team left the millennium as a candidate for the team of the 1990s after winning four national championships in 1991, 1995, 1997 and 1999, its second year as a varsity sport.

When the Huskers make their 2000 debut in October, NU Coach Bill Straub doesn't expect a letdown from his young but talented squad.

"Despite our young talent, we hope to make a run toward another successful season, and to keep adding to our trophy case," Straub said.

Straub knows the road leading to another national championship will challenge the Huskers. Nebraska, ranked No. 1 in the preseason poll, will face a difficult schedule. The Huskers will meet at least one top five team at each of their 11 tournaments. NU will face the No. 2 team in the country, Morehead State, five times.

The 2000-2001 NU squad consists of four returning letterwinners: juniors Diandra Hyman, Amanda O'Hayre, and Christine Couvillon, and sophomore Kari Schwager.

Leading the way is Hyman, one of the most celebrated bowlers in school history. Last year, Hyman averaged a national-best 212.57 per game and earned the 1999-2000 Collegiate Bowler-of-the-Year award. The reigning U.S. National women's amateur champion, Hyman is a two-time first-team All-American and a member of the U.S. National Team very good team for the upcoming season," Straub said.

Coach Straub is not only looking to Hyman for an exceptional 2000-2001 season, but also to O'Hayre, who averaged 201.533 in her 12 tournament a p p e a r a n c e s, Couvillon and Schwager.

April 25-28

Other players contending for top spots include sophomore Ashleigh Hicken, junior Amanda Yost, and two redshirt freshman, Christina Perez and Suzanne Medwell.

"Perez and Medwell will push to replace returning starters and garner some well-deserved playing time for themselves," Straub said.

Straub is also optimistic about Nebraska's incoming freshmen. NU nabbed the 2000 U.S. High School Player of the Year, Shannon Pluhowsky from Phoenix, Ariz. and the Pennsylvania High School Player of the Year, JoAnn Schmidt of Middletown, Pa.

We have scarlet and cream as our colors And we wear them proudly to our games For the Pride of the Cornhusker legend And for the school that we cherish to remain.

Refrain

Verse 2

Here to learn for an undiscovered future And to build from a classical past We are proud of our dear Alma Mater We'll support her to help her always last.

Refrain

Verse

When the moon shone bright on the colors, And those memories make you say, When we kissed on that night at the columns And the sun shone bright on Ivy Day.

Refrain

There Is No Place Like Nebraska

There is no place like Nebraska,
Dear old Nebraska U,
Where the girls are the fairest,
The boys are the squarest,
Of any old place that you know.
There is no place like Nebraska,
Where they're all true blue,
We'll all stick together in all kinds of weather.

For dear old Nebraska U.

Hail Varsity

Hail to the team,
The stadium rings as everyone sings,
The scarlet and cream.
Cheer on for victory
Echo your loyalty,
So on mighty men,
The eyes of the land,
Upon every hand are looking at you.
Fight on to victory,
Hail the men of Nebraska U.

The Official Field Song for Nebraska

Don't you hear that noise
Like the thunder in the skies,
How it rolls along
In the good old song,
For the sons of Nebraska.
Now its coming near with a rising cheer
That will sweep all foes away.
So, with all our vim,
We will fight to win,
And we're going to win today.

Chorus

For Nebraska and the Scarlet, For Nebraska and the Cream, Tho they go through many a battle, Our colors are still seen. So in contest and in victory, We will wave then for the team, And 'twill always stir a Cornhusker, The Old Scarlet and Cream.

Husker Volleyball

John Cook

The Nebraska volleyball team will bear a totally new look in 2000, but Husker fans are optimistic the results will be the same.

After 22 years as Nebraska's head coach, Terry Pettit retired from coaching after winning his 20th Big Eight/Big 12 Conference title and leading Nebraska to its 18th consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance before handing the reins over to one of college volleyball's top young coaches, John Cook. After building Wisconsin into a top 10 program, Cook left the Badgers to take the position as associate head coach for the Huskers in 1999.

Cook's new staff, consisting of Staci Wolfe and Craig Skinner, is poised to take the Huskers to the NCAA Final Four for the seventh time in school history.

Cook's biggest challenge will be replacing two-time All-American Nancy Meendering, who will redshirt this season after training with the U.S. Olympic Team during the offseason. The result will be a more balanced offense, directed by sophomore Greichaly Cepero.

The Puerto Rican native will handle the sole setting responsibilities after the Huskers ran a two-setter offense in 1999. The Big 12 Freshman of the Year, Cepero earned first-team All-Big 12 honors as an outside hitter and will give Nebraska a sixth attacker in the lineup this season.

She will have a pair of talented middle blockers as her primary targets in 6-2 junior Jenny Kropp and 6-4 sophomore Amber Holmquist. Arguably the best blocking tandem in the Big 12, Holmquist ranked second in the league in blocks per game as a true freshman, while Kropp ranked fourth. An honorable-mention All-Big 12 selection, Holmquist also led the conference with the top hitting percentage, a .377 mark in conference games.

Senior Kim Behrends, sophomore Laura Pilakowski and freshman Anna Schrad will staff the outside hitter position. Senior Angie Oxley, a three-year starter at outside hitter, will move to the right side this season in order to give the Huskers an experienced, steady attacker to fill in for Meendering.

who shared the setting duties as a freshman, will take over as a defensive specialist this season.
Senior setter Jill McWilliams, will give the Huskers experience on the bench and will be ready to take over at any point in a match.

S o p h o m o r e middle blocker Pam Krejci will also be counted on after a strong offseason, while freshman outside hitter Rachel Baumstark will likely redshirt.

HuskerVision: Enhancing Husker Fans' Excitement

Seven years ago, Nebraska Director of Athletics Bill Byrne had a "vision" to make Memorial Stadium the first college football stadium in the country to have big screen replay boards. Some people doubted that a college venue could make a project this big a reality, and they wondered if the screens would detract from the game itself.

However, when HuskerVision became a reality in 1994, Byrne's vision proved to be correct, as the big screen replay boards were an instant hit with the fans, enhancing their Husker game-day experience.

With its replay boards, the University of Nebrask a became the first college football team in the country to have instant replay boards at an exclusive college venue. The only other college games which previously had boards available were those played in stadiums which are home to professional football teams.

The screens stand 17 feet high, by 23 feet wide, (388 square feet), and each screen is formed by more than 90,000 lighting dots. These dots form 5,632 lighting elements, units and module cabinets, plus video processing electronics are manufactured by Mitsubishi Electronics. The cost of the system is being paid entirely by commercial sponsorships.

Beside the obvious advantage of being able to view replays and game action on two huge screens, HuskerVision has made several other changes to game day at Memorial Stadium.

First, the screens are the most important ingredient to one of the most dramatic team entrances in all of sports. Along with a 30,000 watt sound system, the replay boards help make "The Tunnel Walk" part of the atmosphere of Nebraska football.

HuskerVision's contributions to Memorial Stadium have not gone unnoticed by Nebraska fans. In a survey of season ticket holders, fans mentioned HuskerVision as one of the most worthwhile additions to Memorial Stadium in many years.

Like the Husker football team, the HuskerVision crew spends the week before a home game developing its own game plan. Starting on Sunday before a home game, the crew produces features for Saturday's game and spends much of the week preparing graphics, mug shots and other clips and features which appear on the boards throughout the game.

Game day is showtime for the HuskerVision crew. On a home Saturday, Director of HuskerVision Jeff Schmahl is in charge of eight control room personnel as well as five other members of the staff who are operating cameras on the field. Also operating in conjuction with much of HuskerVision's features is public address announcer Rich Schwieger as well as producer/director's Kirk Hartman, Michelle Glover, and Brandon Verzal and engineer's Shot Kleen and Jon Barnett. 24 University of Nebraska broadcast journalism students make up the majority of the HuskerVision staff.

HuskerVision is housed in the state-of-the-art Michael Grace Production Studio located on the concourse level of West Stadium. Made possible by a generous donation in honor of former football player and NU Foundation fund-raiser Michael Grace, this area includes office space to accommodate four full-time employees and a staff of interns and student assistants. In addition, a broadcast quality control room, nonlinear editing room and a television production studio allow the HuskerVision staff to produce a multitude of video productions.

Last year, HuskerVision produced more than 100 television shows, including the Frank Solich Show, the Nebraska Football Kickoff Show, as well as coaches shows for men's and women's basketball, volleyball and the Olympic sports at Nebraska.

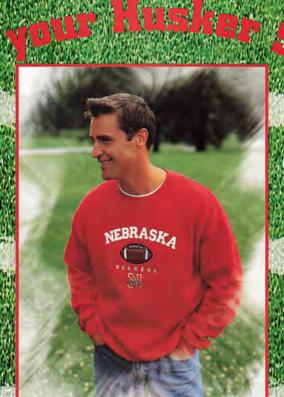

This season, The Frank Solich Show will be produced Saturday night after each game for a statewide broadcast on Sundays. In addition, The Husker Football Kickoff Show and Husker Volleyball Show will also be aired during the fall. During the basketball season, The Barry Collier and Paul Sanderford basketball shows will be broadcast on a statewide basis. Throughout the year, the Husker Show, an Olympic sports magazine program, features many of Nebraska's 24 varsity programs.

HuskerVision's duties also include the production of highlight tapes for all 24 varsity sports and running the new video board in the Bob Devaney Sports Center. The HuskerVision crew has annually produced and marketed highlight tapes on the Nebraska football season. Over the past six years, more than 100,000 tapes have been purchased by NU football fans.

Last fall, HuskerVision expanded to the Bob Devaney Sports Center. Two giant replay boards were installed on the East and West upper ends of the Sports Center that gave Husker fans a chance to view replays, features and other entertaining elements made possible by big screens. The Devaney Center HuskerVision boards are nearly the same size in terms of square footage as the screens in Memorial Stadium. The Devaney screens are among the largest indoor boards in the world, measuring 15 feet high and 26 feet wide, which makes their size compatable with the new HDTV wide screen format. These wide screen aspect ratio screens are part of a 162-foot wide display system on each end of the Devaney Center.

HuskerVision uses "cutting edge" technology to get their signal from the control room to the screens. The current control room in Memorial Stadium is used to send the signal to the Devaney Center screens. This is possible via fiber optic cable which allows multiple video and audio signals to travel long distances using this new technology.

Long known for having one of the best atmospheres in all of college football, Memorial Stadium has become an even better venue for fans with the addition of HuskerVision, making it one of the best stadiums in all of college football.

Bowl Championship Series Information

Starting in 1998, the Bowl Championship Series (BCS) determined the Division I-A National Champion in football. In the BCS's first season, Tennessee defeated Florida State, 23-16, in the Fiesta Bowl to claim the national title. Last year, it was Florida State's turn as the Seminoles topped Virginia Tech 46-29 in the Sugar Bowl for their second national title in seven years.

The BCS Series consists of the Rose Bowl, Sugar Bowl, Orange Bowl and the Fiesta Bowl. Conferences with automatic berths include the Atlantic Coast, Big East, Big Ten, Big 12, Pac-10 and the Southeastern conferences.

At the conclusion of the 2000 regular season, the Orange Bowl will host the national championship contest. The game will be played on Jan. 3 at 7 p.m. in Miami. The Orange Bowl shall select the top two teams ranked in the BCS final regular season standings.

This past January, BCS members voted to extend the BCS agreement with ABC through the 2005 regular season and 2006 bowl season allowing each of the four bowls to host two national championship games.

The BCS also notes the importance of regional consideration regarding team selection. Specifically, as a member of the BCS, the Rose Bowl will host the Big Ten and Pac-10 champions in those years in which either the Rose Bowl does not have the national championship game or the Big Ten and Pac-10 champion is not ranked No. 1 or No. 2. Other "regional consideration" tie-ins include the SEC champion in the Sugar Bowl, the ACC or Big East champion in the Orange Bowl and the Big 12 champion in the Fiesta Bowl.

Any Division I-A independent team or the champion of any Division I-A conference which is ranked sixth or higher in the BCS standings, will also be eligible for the Bowl Championship Series.

A year ago, over 1.2 million fans attended college football's 23 bowl games. This season, there will be 25 post-season bowl games, from the 87th Annual Rose Bowl, to the first-year galleryfurniture.com Bowl in Houston, Texas and the Silicon Valley Bowl in San Jose, Calif.

Other BCS games following the 2000 regular season include Rose Bowl on Jan. 1 at 4 p.m. CST, Fiesta Bowl on Jan. 1 at 7:30 p.m. CST and the Sugar Bowl on Jan. 2 at 7 p.m. CDT.

Following 2000 Regular Season (2001 Bowl Season)

There's a new face, but it's the same place!

BAR & GRILL
9th & Q, Lincoln, Neb.

Open 11 a.m. to 1 a.m. 476-6511 Grill open 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. There's a new look to our place, but Barry's still has the biggest menu around. Come and see us again and celebrate the changes while enjoying the same service and food you have come to expect.

Almost a half century of tradition. Headquarters for all your Husker rallies.

We're always looking for solutions. For instance, the airlines' top complaints are lack of leg room and lost luggage. We suggest more leg room in the lost luggage waiting area. If you're a horse and someone gets on you, falls off and gets right back on, you should buck him off right away. Remember sometimes you can use a foreign language to make your point. Consider French. Open a conversation with On t'a berce trop pres du mur? Which means "As a child, was your cradle rocked too close to the wall?"

Automobile Dealers in Nebraska are contributing a large measure of help to the University of Nebraska athletic program through the loan of courtesy cars. Like other programs which are a part of the Cornhusker booster group activities, this project enables the Nebraska Athletic Department to make greater use of its funds. These sports-minded dealers around the state have earned a debt of gratitude from the University of Nebraska Athletic Department. They are an important part of the "team," which includes players, coaches, administration, faculty, staff, students, alumni, the Husker Educational Award group, the Husker Athletic Fund and the courtesy car program.

The 2000 Huskers

Pari (890-1940) Pioneer Spirit

From its humble beginnings in the late 1800s to its global following today, Nebraska Football has provided many memorable moments. A three-part series produced by NETV and HuskerVision chronicles those moments that have made up the "Husker Century."

Part I, which tells the story of the first 50 years, is now available.

The Husker Century video series will be sold at Huskers Authentic, at huskersauthentic.com and huskers.com, or by phone at 1-800-8-BIGRED.

Big Brother is One of Many Roles for Walker

Joe Walker

By Jerod Dahlgren

As NU's starting rover and return specialist, Joe Walker already had his hands full

Filling the role of big brother was not something he had planned on for his senior season, but is something that he cherishes.

Tommicus and Treoun Walker both transferred to Nebraska as walk-ons this past off-season to join Joe for his senior season.

Both redshirting cornerbacks, Tommicus came to Lincoln after playing reserve tailback at Texas Christian, while Treoun joined NU after playing at Highland (Kan.) Community College.

"It's a blessing to have them around to be part of my life, especially during my senior season," Joe Walker said. "It gives me a foundation of support. Also it is a good chance for me to be a big brother by showing them how to play the game and how to go about life and leave a positive note for them to learn from."

So far during the 2000 season, Joe has been an excellent role model.

While starting five of six games at rover for NU, he is second among the Husker defensive backs with 25 tackles. In last week's game against Texas Tech, Walker intercepted a Kliff Kingsbury pass and returned it 19 yards for the Huskers' first score of the game. It was Walker's second interception of the season, seventh of his career, and third for a touchdown, tying the NU career interception returns for touchdowns mark.

Along with last week's performance, Walker tied an NCAA record in 1998 with return TDs on a punt, interception and kickoff returns. The most important of his touchdowns in '98 came against Oklahoma State with a 73-yard punt return in the fourth quarter that clinched the victory for the Huskers.

"Basically, every time I return a punt or a kick, I have a mindset that I am going to return the ball for a touchdown," Walker said. "I think that is every return man's mindset."

After coming to Nebraska from Arlington-Lamar High School as an All-America quarterback, Walker played in all 13 games as a DB as a true freshman in 1997, including a start in the Texas Tech game in the nickel package. He tallied 27 tackles, two sacks and two interceptions, including an interception for a touchdown against Kansas State.

During his sophomore campaign, he started the first six games at rover when Mike Brown was starting at free safety for the injured Clint Finley. Walker finished seventh on the team with 50 tackles in addition to his record-setting returns. But while preparing for the Holiday Bowl, Walker tore his left ACL in a punt return drill, ending his season.

"It was a disappointment in my career when I had the injury," Walker said. "It was a part of my life where it was a transition. It helped me grow from a boy to a young man and made me realize that you can't take things for granted."

Still slowed by the recovery process, Walker sat out the first three games in 1999, totaling just 11 tackles while backing up Mike Brown, who earned All-America honors last year.

Secondary Coach George Darlington said Walker has made great contributions to NU throughout his career.

"He is a very, very versatile player," Darlington said. "He has accomplished many things here and has been asked to do a lot."

Darlington added that during Walker's senior season, he has been a quiet leader for the Huskers.

"He's done a good job of leadership," Darlington said. "He is not a yeller or a rahrah guy, but he does communicate to the guys about responsibilities and improving those responsibilities and techniques."

After practices this season, it has not been uncommon to see Walker hopping on his motorbike to ride from the practice field back to the locker room.

"It's just a little toy I invested in," Walker said. "Gas was going up so high, so I figured it would be a good investment for me. Players have been having a lot of problems getting towed, since there really isn't anywhere to park. It gives me easy access."

While the motorbike idea may have seemed like a good solution to Walker, Darlington questions the choice.

"Hopefully he won't be crashing any motorized vehicles," Darlington said. "We could do without that."

If Walker does make it through the season without an accident on his motorbike, he is slated to graduate in December with a degree in sociology. He has high hopes for a career in the NFL, but before he pursues that goal, he has another one in mind: a national championship.

"That is the most important thing right now," Walker said. "I would love to win a national championship and leave on a positive note."

Guidelines for NU Athletic Department Boosters

The University of Nebraska Athletic Department takes great pride in abiding by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the Big 12 Conference rules and guidelines that govern Division I competition. For the benefit of the many alumni, fans and booster club members who are so active in supporting and assisting the Huskers throughout the year, we would like to remind everyone of a few definitions and rules that apply to all athletic representatives and boosters.

NCAA Principles

Institutional Control

It is the responsibility of the University of Nebraska to control its intercollegiate athletic program in compliance with the rules and regulations of the NCAA.

Responsibility

The University of Nebraska's responsibility for the conduct of its program includes responsibility for the actions of its staff members and for the actions of any other individual, booster or organization engaged in activities promoting the athletic interests of the institution.

Compliance

The University of Nebraska must monitor its program to assure compliance and to identify and report to the NCAA instances in which compliance has not been achieved. An institution found to have violated NCAA rules is subject to disciplinary and corrective actions as determined by the NCAA.

NCAA Definitions

Athletic Representative/Booster

You are considered to be a University of Nebraska athletic representative if you:

- ▶ Are a present or past member of a University of Nebraska booster club or agency that promotes the Huskers' intercollegiate athletic program;
- ▶ Have made financial contributions to the athletic department or to an athletic booster organization of the University of Nebraska;
- Are, or have been, providing benefits (e.g., summer jobs, meals etc.) to enrolled student-athletes, their family members or friends;
- ▶ Are, or have been involved in any manner of promoting the University of Nebraska intercollegiate athletic program.

Please note: Once an individual is identified as an athletic representative, that person retains that identity indefinitely. The University of Nebraska is ultimately responsible for the acts of all "representatives of athletic interests" in relation to NCAA rules and regulations.

Prospective Student-Athlete

A prospective student-athlete is a student who has started classes for the ninth grade or above, including students in prep schools and junior colleges as well as students who have officially withdrawn from a four-year institution and plan to transfer to another institution. In addition, a student who has not started classes for the ninth grade becomes a prospective student-athlete if the institution or a booster provides the individual or the individual's relatives or friends with any financial assistance or benefits that the institution does not provide to prospective students in general. A good rule of thumb is to treat ALL STUDENTS as prospects.

Student-Athlete

A student-athlete is a student whose enrollment was solicited by a member of the athletic staff or other representative of athletic interests with a view toward the student's ultimate participation in the intercollegiate athletics program.

Contact

A contact is any face-to-face encounter between a prospect, or the prospect's parent or legal guardian, and an institutional staff member or athletic representative during which any dialogue occurs.

Recruiting

Recruiting is any solicitation of a prospect or a prospect's family member (or guardian) by an institutional staff member or by athletic representative of the institution, for the purpose of securing the prospect's enrollment and ultimate participation in the institution's intercollegiate athletic program.

Guidelines and Reminders for Boosters

- ▶ A booster may not contact the prospect, prospect's coach, principal or counselor in an attempt to evaluate or recruit the prospect.
- ▶ A booster may not expend funds to entertain or provide transportation for a prospective student-athlete, family members or friends.
- ▶ A booster may not become directly or indirectly involved in making arrangements for a prospect, or the prospect's relative or friends to receive money or financial aid of any kind.
- ▶ A booster may not contact a prospective student-athlete through letter writing, telephone calling or other forms of communication.

However, here are a few ways that a Husker Booster may be involved:

- ▶ Do discuss summer employment opportunities with a prospect after he/ she has signed a National Letter of Intent with the University of Nebraska.
- ▶ Do attend high school athletic events without contacting prospective student-athletes.
- ▶ Do continue existing friendships with families and friends of prospective student-athletes.
- Do send recommendation letters, newspaper clipping or similar information about prospective student-athletes to Husker coaches.

Extra Benefits Guidelines and Reminders for Boosters Extra Benefit

An extra benefit is any special arrangement by an institutional employee or an athletic representative to provide a student-athlete or the student-athlete's relative or friend a benefit not expressly authorized by NCAA legislation.

Boosters may not provide any special arrangement considered to be an extra benefit by NCAA definition. Examples of extra benefits include but are not limited to:

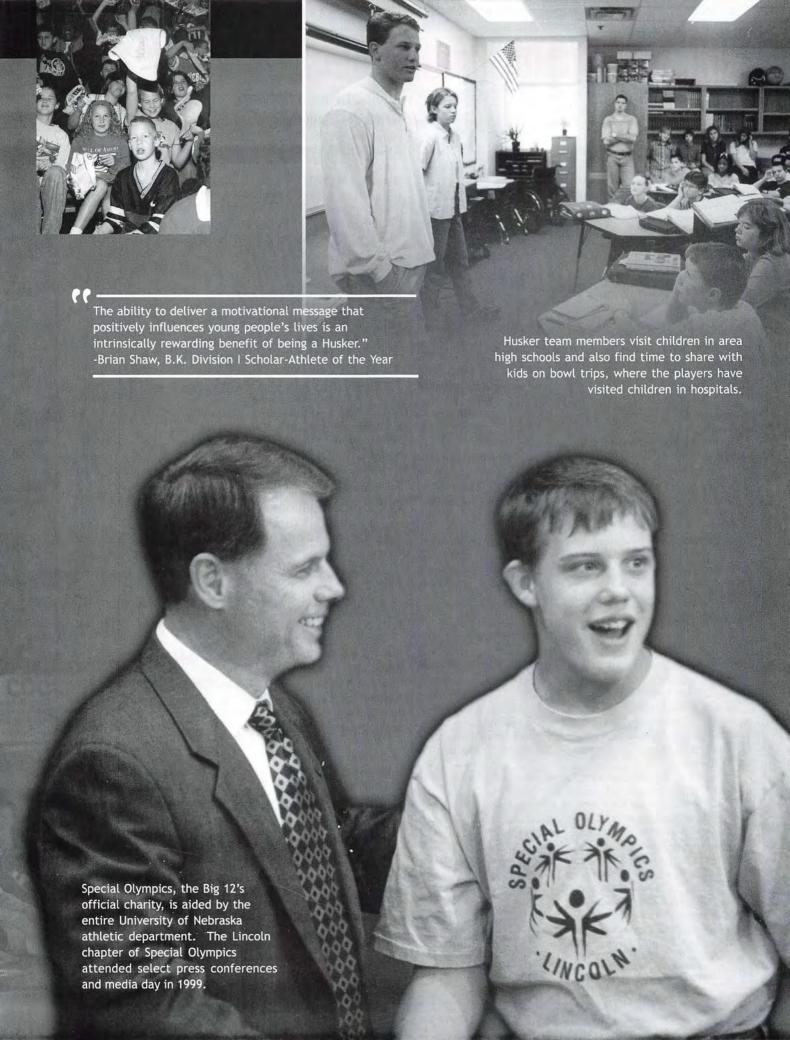

- > Providing cash or loans of any amount;
- Signing or co-signing for a loan or other forms of financial assistance;
- Providing the use of a telephone to make local or long distance calls;
- ▶ Transporting a student-athlete or providing the use of a vehicle;
- Providing free or reduced rent housing;
- Giving gifts of any kind (i.e. birthday, Christmas, Valentine's Day);
- Promising a student-athlete post-graduate education or employment;
- ▶ Offering free services (i.e. clothing, airline tickets, laundry, car repair, haircuts, restaurant meals);
- ▶ Providing payment to a student-athlete for a booster club speaking engagement:
- ▶ Providing employment for relatives or friends.

However, here are a few ways that a Husker booster may help:

- ▶ Do invite a student-athlete to participate in non-profit, charitable or educational events.
- ▶ Do invite a student-athlete into your home for an occasional meal.
- ▶ Do contact the NU Athletic Compliance Office for approval prior to a student-athlete engaging in outside speaking or promotional activities.
- ▶ Do pay a student-athlete the commensurate rate for actual and legitimate employment.

For further information regarding NCAA Guidelines for Athletic Representatives, please contact the Athletic Compliance Office at (402) 472-2042 or 1-(800) 927-7220. Inquiries may also be mailed to the Athletic Compliance Office at 300 West Stadium, P.O. Bos 880219, Lincoln, NE 68588-0219 or faxed to (402) 472-4609.

Pinnacle Sports Productions

Pinnacle Sports Productions begins its fifth year of producing and marketing the live broadcasts of the University of Nebraska football, men's and women's basketball, volleyball, baseball and softball games. Pinnacle was first awarded the broadcast rights on Feb. 9, 1996. The University renewed the Pinnacle Contract in May, 2000 worth $10.4 million over an additional five-year term to begin Aug. 1, 2001 and to end July 31, 2006.

Criteria used in evaluating bids included guaranteed annual fees; confidence in the bidder's ability to realize such fees; ability to put together a network; additional proposed programming; availability of a viable radio production facility and personnel; coverage of women's sports; other sports coverage committed; air wave coverage of the state of Nebraska and key out-of-state locations; and willingness and ability to promote the University of Nebraska in all areas, including non-athletic concerns.

Warren Swain Play-by-Play

Adrian Fiala Color

Pinnacle Sports Productions heads up a large network of state and national affiliates, allowing Husker games to be heard nationwide. For the 2000 season, KKAR (1290 AM) and KZFX (101.9 FM) are the Omaha affiliates and KLIN (1400 AM) and KFGE (98.1 FM) are the Lincoln affiliates. As of press time, Pinnacle Sports had put together a 59-station network, including 37 in-state and 22 out-state stations, covering 14 states.

The Pinnacle Sports Productions staff includes Paul Aaron, President; John Andrews, General Manager; Patricia Aaron, Marketing; Colleen Hitz, Marketing and Sales Manager; Jamie Linn, Marketing; David Lacey, Business Manager; Mike Elliott, Technical Director; Terri Elliott, Producer; Lesia Woodruff; Billing and Traffic Director.

Pinnacle Sports Announcers

Veteran sportscaster Warren Swain begins his fifth year as the playby-play voice of Husker football and men's basketball. Swain has been in the sports radio business for nearly three decades and was the radio voice of University of Virginia football, basketball and lacrosse from 1986 to 1996.

Swain has also held play-by-play assignments at Drake University, the University of Oregon, Iowa State University and Hastings College. Swain was named Virginia Sportscaster of the Year six times, most recently in 1994, as well as earning Iowa and Oregon Sportscaster-of-the-Year honors.

After growing up in the Midwest, Swain welcomed the opportunity to work with the University of Nebraska.

Former Husker Adrian Fiala provides color for football broadcasts. Fiala played football (linebacker) and baseball (catcher) for the Huskers (1967-69). Fiala previously provided color commentary for KFOR radio in Lincoln, working with Ray Scott, Tim Moreland and Dick Perry. Since 1985, he has worked as the analyst for telecasts of the Omaha Golden Spikes games on the Nebraska ETV Network and in Omaha, on Cox cable. He has provided color commentary for the Nebraska baseball team for the past 10 seasons.

Jim Rose joins Swain and Fiala in the broadcast booth each week for his comments and insights. Rose is also the women's basketball play-by-play announcer and is the program director at KLIN. Sideline reports are delivered by KKAR's Gary Java. Other announcers and studio personnel include, KLIN's John Bishop, John Baylor and Gary Sharp.

Big Red Football School

Dear Student-Athlete:

I know attending a camp can be very valuable to a young athlete, and the Nebraska Coaching Staff wants you to know that we will do everything possible to pass along personal instruction and individual techniques to every athlete to make your learning experience a truly enjoyable one.

Frank Solich

Registration

Athletes who will be in the 10th, 11th or 12th grades next fall are eligible to attend the Big Red Football School. The fee is $195. An advance registration deposit of $100 must accompany each application. The balance is due at registration time. There will be no refund of fees after the athlete has been accepted in school. Housing is provided in one of the University's residence halls, where breakfast, lunch and dinner are included in the $195 fee.

Campers that live close to the University may stay with their parents if approved--an adjustment in fees will be made in this case. Attached is an application form which should be filled out and sent at once to: Big Red Football School, 217 South Stadium, P.O. Box 880125, Lincoln, NE 68588. Make checks payable to: Big Red Football School.

Sessions

During each session, Frank Solich and his staff will give personal instruction on individual techniques and fundamentals daily from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Lectures will be given after lunch by Coach Solich (motivation) and Nebraska Strength Coach Boyd Epley (strength training). Evening sessions will be devoted to specialty work and team competition. During the camp you will also have the opportunity to lift weights under the supervision of Boyd Epley and his staff. Although all four sessions are individual camps, groups of players or teams are encouraged to attend.

Husker Soccer

Jenny Benson

After producing the best season in Nebraska soccer history in 1999, the Huskers want only one thing in 2000 -- more.

Nebraska advanced to the Elite Eight in the NCAA Tournament for the second time in school history and finished with a 22-1-2 record but came up one sudden death penalty kick short of its first trip to the Women's College Cup in San Jose, Calif. The Huskers did not advance after a four-overtime tie with Notre Dame in front of a school-record crowd of 3,702 at the Abbott Sports Complex.

Now, despite losing a senior class that included All-Americans Lindsay Eddleman, Isabelle Morneau, Sharolta Nonen and Amy Walsh, Coach John Walker and the Huskers think they have what it takes to repeat as Big 12 champions and advance to the Women's College Cup.

"We're not satisfied with what we accomplished last year," Walker said. "Sure it's nice to finish in the top five, but our goal is to get to the Final Four and win the national title. At Nebraska, the goal will always be to win the national championship."

The Huskers run for the Women's College Cup will be led by an experienced defense. Senior goalkeeper Karina LeBlanc, who ranked fifth nationally with a 0.51 goals-against average, returns after a summer as a starter for the Canadian National Team. Senior defender Christine Gluck, who has started 47 straight games, returns after earning All-Big 12 Tournament honors. Senior defender/midfielder Jenny Benson, who is Nebraska's all-time assist leader and one of the nation's most creative players, also returns as a three-time All-Big 12 pick.

Sophomore Breanna Boyd, who is a starting defender for the Canadian National Team, completes a solid backfield, while All-Big 12 midfielder Meghan Anderson is back to head Nebraska's attack. The junior from Omaha led the Huskers and ranked 18th nationally with 54 points on 21 goals and 12 assists.

Junior Shannon Tanaka and sophomore Kori Saunders should also find starting jobs in the midfield. Second-team All-Big 12 forwards Kelly Rheem and Christine Latham should help lead an offense that ranked second nationally with 4.32 goals per game in 1999. Juniors Becky Preston, Najah Williams and Danica Carey and senior Lauren Tatum will all battle for starting time in the midfield or at forward. Brooke Jones, Paige Phillips and Leah Lamale should see significant playing time.

Husker Rifle

Nicole Allaire

The Husker rifle team made history last year when it qualified for the NCAA Championships in just its second season. Not only did the Husker shooters fire their way to a third-place finish with three freshmen and two sophomores on the roster, but they were also the only all-female team in the competition.

Although it will be tough to duplicate last year's accomplishment, Head Coach Karen Anthony said she expects Nebraska to be among the top five teams in the country during the 2000-01 season.

"We will have excellent depth in air rifle, with five athletes capable of shooting 390 or better," Anthony said. "We're not as deep with the smallbore rifle, but we'll be significantly better than last year."

The Huskers will again rely on Nicole Allaire, who was named a National Rifle Association All-American in both air and smallbore rifles as a freshman. The reigning NCAA individual champion in the smallbore, Allaire also competed in the individual air rifle competition, placing 15th.

Nebraska will also be bolstered by the return of sophomore Amanda Trujillo, who earned second-team NRA All-America honors in both rifles, and junior Terim Richards, who finished fifth in the NCAA individual air rifle competition. Trujillo, who hails from Brush, Colo., placed ninth in the NCAA individual smallbore competition and could challenge for NRA first-team honors this year.

Lincoln native Rachel Spiry returns for her third season. The team leader, Spiry has added 66 points to her smallbore personal-best and has also improved in the air rifle.

S o p h o m o r e Victoria Ridge (Langhorne, Pa.) is also back and could challenge for a top-four spot on the smallbore team.

Three freshmen join the Huskers for the 2000-01 season, led by Heather Pissos from 2000-01 Rifle Schedule

Wheeling, W.V. Pissos, a second-year member of the National Development team, finished second to Richards in air rifle and was the runner-up to Allaire in smallbore at the 2000 National Junior Olympic Shooting Championships.

The Huskers will also gain some international experience with the addition of Victoria, British Columbia, native Karen Aspden. Aspden, who shoots primarily air rifle, finished fourth at the 1999 Canadian National Rifle Championships and should contribute immediately to the team.

Rounding out the recruiting class is Melissa Downsbrough from Bellefonte, Pa. Downsbrough, only 17, competed at the 1999 USA Shooting National Championships, and should see marked improvement in her scores throughout the season, according to Anthony.

Husker Wrestling

Mark Manning

After three seasons as the head coach at Northern Iowa, Mark Manning will take over the helm of a Nebraska squad that finished eighth nationally last season and returns four NCAA qualifiers, three All-Americans and a national champion.

Although Manning is excited about his new position at Nebraska, he said he isn't quite sure when it will sink in that he is now a member of the scarlet and cream instead of the purple and gold of Northern Iowa.

"As the season gets going I think it will set in," Manning said. "This is a great opportunity for me professionally. I coach to help young men grow in wrestling and in life. I want to help each one of our team members meet their goals on and off the mat."

Manning will rely on senior Brad Vering to lead the Huskers toward those goals. Vering gave Nebraska its seventh national champion after defeating Iowa State's Zach Thompson in the 197-pound finals at the NCAA Championships in St. Louis last year. The Howells, Neb., native posted a 38-3 record during the 1999-2000 campaign and is at the top of InterMat's preseason rankings.

Senior Todd Beckerman enters the 2000-01 campaign as the second-ranked 133-pounder in the nation after earning his first All-America honor in 2000. Beckerman posted a 31-10 mark last season and was the team leader in major decision victories with 11.

Manning's third returning All-American is junior Bryan Snyder. The Easton, Pa., native was an All-American and Big 12 Champion at 157 pounds in both 1999 and 2000 and posted a 43-3 overall record, including a perfect 18-0 dual record last season. Snyder's 43 wins in 1999-2000 tied him for second on NU's single-season win chart.

Husker Women's Gymnastics

Amy Ringo

The question heading into the 2001 season for Nebraska Women's Gymnastics Coach Dan Kendig is what to do for an encore.

Last season, the Huskers went 25-5, won their first regional title in 17 seasons and placed fourth at the NCAA Championships, equaling the best finish at nationals in the program's 25-year history. In addition, Heather Brink won the NCAA all-around and vault titles, while also capturing the Honda Award, presented to the nation's top collegiate gymnast.

Despite the difficult task of replacing Brink and All-American Nicole Wilkinson, Kendig is optimistic about the upcoming campaign. The Huskers return six letterwinners, including a trio of All-Americans, and regain the services of Bree Dority O'Callaghan, who missed all of last season with a knee injury.

"We are excited about the upcoming season," said Kendig, who is 123-26 in seven seasons at NU. "We are going to miss Heather's consistency, but we will have a lot more routines to draw from because we gained five athletes and lost only two. On paper, we should be a better team than last season."

Much of the leadership will be provided by all-arounders Amy Ringo and A.J. Lamb, as the duo both earned All-America honors last season. The lone senior on the roster, Ringo was NU's most consistent all-arounder, scoring 39 or better in each of the last nine meets, placing fifth in the all-around at the Big 12 Championships and at the NCAA Region 3 Championships. Lamb made an immediate impact in her first season for the scarlet and cream, earning first-team All-America honors on floor exercise and finishing second in the all-around at regionals. She set freshman records in three events and was the Big 12 Co-Newcomer of the Year.

If the NCAA Championships were any indication, junior Laura Goss is poised to have a breakthrough season in 2001. The Austell, Ga., native scored 9.825 or better in all six of her routines at nationals, barely missing out on All-America honors on three events. She is also the Huskers' top returning vaulter, placing second at the Big 12 Championships with a career-best 9.90.

If Dority O' Callaghan can return to her freshman season form, the Huskers will have another top all-arounder in the lineup. She had an impressive freshman season in 1999, taking Big 12 Newcomer-of-the-Year honors and placing 17th in the all-around at the NCAAs in Salt Lake City with a career-best score of 39.175, barely missing out on All-America honors. O'Callaghan suffered a knee injury and was redshirted, but has been in the gym working on her routines since last spring.

In addition to Lamb, a trio of freshmen were mainstays in the NU lineup in 2000, and all have the potential to contend for conference and national honors this season. Julie Houk is the Huskers' third returning All-American. The sophomore from Hamilton, Ohio, won the Big 12 title on the uneven bars and was among the national leaders in the event all season. Fellow sophomores Jess Wertz and Jen French were both three-event performers last season. Wertz competed on all four events last season and is one of the Huskers' top performers on uneven bars and floor exercise, while French was one of NU's top beam workers and led off the Husker yault lineup last year.

Joining the returnees is one of the nation's top recruiting classes. Alicia Ingram was a former national team member who competed at the U.S. Nationals in late July. In addition, Gina Bruce, Tami Harris and Libby Landgraf all have extensive experience competing at Junior National competition.

Nebraska faces a tough schedule featuring the Masters Classic with LSU, North Carolina State and Denver the last weekend in February.

Husker Men's Gymnastics

Dusty Jakub

Nebraska men's gymnastics Coach Francis Allen predicts the Huskers will have luck on their side during the 2001 season after suffering though the unluckiest season in the program's history last year.

The Huskers lost national champions Jason Hardabura and Marshall Nelson as well as All-American Blake Bukacek to injuries in 2000.

"Last season, if we had not had the injuries that we did, there is not a doubt in my mind that we would have been a top competitor for the national championship," Allen said.

"But the thing is, this year's team could be even better than the squad we were going to have last year if everything goes according to plan and we have a little luck."

Allen has reason for optimism. Nebraska will field an experienced and talented squad despite the departure of a 2000 senior class that included one national champion and three All-Americans.

Jason Hardabura headlines the 2001 team. The 1999 NCAA allaround and floor exercise champion, Hardabura competed in just two meets during the 2000 season because of shoulder soreness. In late February, he underwent season-ending surgery to repair a torn labrum, fixing the tendon that connected his right shoulder to its socket.

Allen said Hardabura, who holds the NU record for all-around scores of 58 or higher in a single season with six, returned to full speed faster than expected.

"Even though Hardabura missed last season, he is still going to be a guy that everyone wants to beat," Allen said. "He has to be a favorite for the all-around title again this year." The Huskers' second returning All-American is Dusty Jakub. A Lincoln High product, Jakub was a fixture in Nebraska's pommel horse and parallel bars lineups throughout the 2000 season before capturing All-America honors with a fifth-place finish in the parallel bars competition at the NCAA Championships in April.

Senior Grant Clinton and junior Martin Fournier also bring championship experience to the Nebraska lineup. Clinton advanced to the NCAA finals on high bar last season despite battling back and shoulder soreness throughout 2000. When healthy, Clinton competes in five events and is one of NU's best still rings performers.

Fournier competed in the all-around eight times for NU during the 2000 season and scored 54 or higher five times. His best event is parallel bars, where he captured three event titles.

"Martin Fournier will be a great gymnast," Allen said. "He hurt his wrist in December last year and never really recovered. I'm expecting much more out of him this year."

Junior Jeff Kelly, a ring specialist, and sophomores Nick Batliner and Ryan Sneed also return for NU. They will be joined by freshmen Steven Friedman, a South African national team member, and Orzata Iulian and Suciu Silviu, both Romanian national team members.

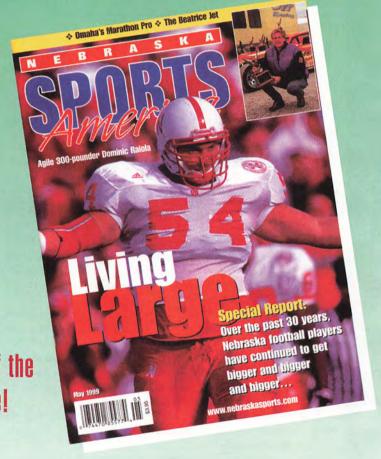

The three newcomers will not join the Huskers until the second semester because each will compete in the 2000 Olympics this fall.

"Both Romanian guys are tough, rugged gymnasts," Allen said. "They are scoring 56 all-arounds at the Olympic level, which is like a 57 or 58 in college. Steven Friedman is also very talented, and he's a great rings guy. I'm expecting to see terrific things from all three of the new guys."

Husker Cross Country

Amie Jorgensen

With the loss of All-Big 12 Conference runner Michelle Brooks and 1999 team captain Jaime Pauli, the 2000 Nebraska women's cross country team would appear to be hard pressed to duplicate its 16th-place finish at last year's cross country championships.

In addition to Brooks and Pauli, the Huskers will also find themselves without the services of Jeannette Zimmer, who was Nebraska's top finisher in each of the meets in which she competed as a freshman. Zimmer, who was limited to four meets last year, was forced to give up running because of stress fractures in both legs.

However, NU Coach Jay Dirksen still has reason for optimism. Nebraska returns three runners from the 1999 squad that earned the program's highest finish at the national meet since 1994.

"I think we've got four pretty solid returnees, and we've added some really good freshmen," Dirksen said. "This is one of the toughest conferences in the nation, and we're hoping to place in the top half."

Leading this year's squad will be Amie (Finkner) Jorgensen (Kearney, Neb.) and Jaimie Kruger (Pierce, Neb.), a pair of seniors who were among Nebraska's top runners last season. Injuries have plagued Jorgensen her entire collegiate career, and she missed the 2000 indoor track season with a stress fracture. However, with a great spring track season in which she placed eighth at the conference meet in the 10,000-meter run, and a solid summer of training, Jorgensen is on pace to have her best season ever this fall.

Kruger, who now has a year of Division-I experience after transferring from Nebraska-Kearney in 1998, could battle for a spot in the top three.

Another returner who will compete for the top spot on the team is sophomore Kathryn Handrup (Aurora, Neb.). Handrup was consistently among the top four runners on the Husker squad despite starting her collegiate career on only half a summer of training because of injuries. Last season she finished 22nd in the competive Big 12 and will look to improve that finish in 2000.

Also returning to the team is senior Deb Osteen (Clayton, Calif.), junior Jenna Lucas (Rapid City, S.D.) and sophomore Melissa Drozda (Omaha, Neb.).

Osteen has been slowed by a pelvic injury, which may cause her to redshirt this season.

Lucas (Rapid City, S.D.) could be among the top five runners on the team. Last year Lucas made tremendous strides in cross country and on the track, but Dirksen believes she has yet to reach her full potential.

Drozda (Omaha, Neb.), who struggled last season because of complications with her allergy medication, will also attempt to break the top seven. Sophomore Christy Linnell (Papillion, Neb.) has taken a little longer to adjust to running at the collegiate level, but after turning in some good races last year, she is expected to add depth to the team.

Dirksen has added three freshmen to the squad for the 2000 season, including Ann Gaffigan from Springfield, Ill. Gaffigan, the 1998 Illinois cross country champion, suffered from mononucleosis her junior year but rebounded to win the 2000 Illinois Class AA 3,200-meter run in a personal-best time of 10:27.6. If Gaffigan can adjust quickly to running at the collegiate level, Dirksen expects her to battle for the top spot on the squad and to rank among the top runners in the conference.

Joining Gaffigan are Morgan Hartman (Scottsbluff, Neb.) and Hillary Laird (Kansas City, Mo.). Hartman missed the entire high school cross country season because of injury but came on strong in the spring. She suffered a stress fracture before her high school district meet and just resumed training in July. Laird, the Missouri state two-mile Class AA champion, came on strong her senior year in high school and will provide depth to a strong Nebraska team.

The 2000 Husker men's cross country team could be the surprise of the year in the Big 12 Conference. The Huskers, a very young squad last year with four freshmen among the team's top seven runners, have gained a year of experience and hope to improve on last year's sixth-place finish at the conference meet.

"I'm really excited about our men's team," Dirksen said. "We have two seniors who are really good leaders, and that's something we haven't had in a while. We also gained three really solid recruits. I think that makes for a pretty darn good team."

Senior Marcus Witter (Kearney, Neb.), Nebraska's top runner in 1999, returns, along with classmate Aaron Carrizales (Morrill, Neb.), who ended the season as the Huskers' No. 2 runner.

Witter has made tremendous improvement throughout his collegiate career and has the potential to be among the top 10 runners in the conference, Dirksen said. Smith, a tough competitor and hard worker, could also be among the top runners in the league.

Last season Carrizales was knocking on the door of being one of the top 25 runners in the conference, finishing 31st at the Big 12 meet and 26th at the NCAA Regional meet.

The Huskers also boast six solid sophomores, who will battle for a spot in the top seven.

Perhaps the key to this year's squad is how Ian Gray (Eugene, Ore.) performs. Gray missed the first three meets of the season in 1999 while he recovered from a broken foot suffered the previous summer. Although inexperienced in collegiate racing, his ability to train at high levels should bridge that gap quickly.

Jed Barta (Idaho Falls, Idaho) struggled during the cross country season last year because of sinus trouble but has recovered and should be among the top five runners on the team.

Dirksen is also looking for big things from Mike Kamm (Bellevue, Wash.). Kamm came out of high school as a good track runner but surprised everyone with his ability on the cross country course. Another strong sophomore, James De Bruhl (Ontario, Calif), is a very talented middle distance runner with tremendous speed and the ability to be a good distance runner.

Phillip Davis (Watertown, S.D.) and Hunter Kosman (Scottsbluff, Neb.) have improved and will add depth to an extremely talented team.

Three freshmen will join the squad but may find it hard to crack the team's top seven. Headlining this year's recruiting class is Eric Rasmussen (North Platte, Neb.), the Nebraska 3,200-meter champion. Joining him is Kyle Wyatt (Albion, Neb.), the Class C mile champion, and Jon Jenkerson (La Crosse, Wis.).

1970 National Champions - 11-0-1

Early in the 1970 season, Jerry Murtaugh predicted Nebraska would win the national championship. Murtaugh was a senior linebacker and co-captain who, in just three seasons, set the Cornhusker career record for tackles. A quarter of a century later, Murtaugh's mark still stands.

It was obvious that Murtaugh was capable of backing up whatever he said, which, in the case of the 1970 season was not without some justification. Nebraska had been 9-2 the previous season, winning its final seven games, including a decisive 45-6 victory against Georgia in the Sun Bowl.

After the Sun Bowl game, Georgia coach Vince Dooley said the Cornhuskers hadn't belonged in El Paso, Texas; they deserved better competition than his team could provide.

Still, 1970 was a new season. And though Nebraska had several starters returning on offense, Murtaugh was one of only three defensive starters returning. Dave Walline and Jim Anderson were the others.

Besides, winning a national championship wasn't something over which a team had complete control. It would depend not only on being successful, but also on the votes of writers and broadcasters in the Associated Press poll or of selected coaches in the United Press International poll.

Two games into the season, Murtaugh's brash prediction became a longshot, at best. After opening with a 36-12 victory against Wake Forest, the ninth-ranked Cornhuskers played Southern California to a 21-21 tie at the LA Coliseum. The Trojans tied the score with 8:16 remaining, after a failed 12-yard field goal attempt, resulting from a poor center snap, kept Nebraska from putting the game away.

"We should have won the game," Johnny Rodgers said years later. Rodgers was a sophomore in 1970, his first varsity season.

A tie at USC was certainly no disgrace. Coach John McKay's team was ranked No. 3. Nebraska even moved up in the next week's Associated Press poll. But No. 8 was still a long way from No. 1.

And the Cornhuskers' record had a blemish, however slight.

Nebraska returned to Memorial Stadium to defeat Army 28-0 the next week, to begin what would be a 23-game winning streak and include not one but two national championships.

The Cornhuskers rolled through the Big Eight, moving up to No. 3 in the AP rankings after a 51-13 victory against No. 20 Kansas State in the next-to-last game of the regular season. Nebraska intercepted Wildcat quarterback Lynn Dickey a school-record seven times, and Cornhusker I-back Joe Orduna rushed for 105 yards and four touchdowns against what had been the conference's best defense.

Orduna, a senior who sat out the 1969 season as a medical redshirt, led Nebraska in rushing in 1970.

A week later, the Cornhuskers won the Big Eight championship outright by defeating Oklahoma 28-21 at Memorial Stadium. Though unranked, the young Sooners could have earned a share of the conference title with a victory. Nebraska had to come from behind twice during the game. Junior quarterback Jerry Tagge scored the winning touchdown, capping a 53-yard drive, with 7:42 remaining.

Nebraska finished 10-0-1, its first undefeated regular season since 1965, and ranked No. 3 in both wire service polls, behind two unbeaten and untied teams: No. 1 Texas and No. 2 Ohio State. The UPI didn't conduct a poll after bowl games, so Texas was its national champion for 1970.

The Cornhuskers were matched against No. 5 LSU in the Orange Bowl game on New Year's night. Texas played Notre Dame, which had been

No. 1 until a late-season loss to USC, in a rematch of the previous year's Cotton Bowl. And Ohio State drew Stanford in the Rose Bowl.

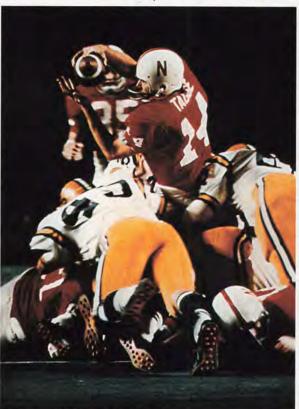

Nebraska's hopes of earning the AP version of the national championship were slim. Both Texas and Ohio State would have to lose, and the Cornhuskers would have to win. But it happened.

Notre Dame upset Texas 24-11, and Stanford staged a fourth-quarter comeback to defeat Ohio State 27-17. Nebraska learned of the latter result during the Orange Bowl's pregame warmups.

The Cornhuskers appeared ready to seize their opportunity, jumping ahead of LSU 10-0 in the first 13 minutes of the Orange Bowl. But the Tigers controlled the ball during the second and third quarters, scoring on a 31-yard pass on the final play of the third quarter to take a 12-10 lead.

Nebraska responded by driving 67 yards for the winning touchdown, scored by Tagge from 1 yard away with 8:50 remaining. Junior linebacker Bob Terrio, a junior college transfer who had arrived at Nebraska as a fullback, preserved the victory by intercepting a Bert Jones pass with 45 seconds left.

Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian argued that his team should be the AP national champion because it had defeated top-ranked Texas. But Nebraska was a decisive No. 1 in the final AP poll. "I was afraid Ara's comments might influence the voters, but I guess the writers are too smart to take some coach's word," Cornhusker Coach Bob Devaney said. "The writers knew who was best."

Nebraska also received a national championship endorsement from President Richard Nixon, who proclaimed the Cornhuskers No. 1, to the delight of 8,000 at the NU Coliseum, on Jan. 14, 1971. Co-captains Murtaugh and fullback Dan Schneiss joined Devaney alongside Nixon.

It was just as Murtaugh had predicted.

1971 National Champions – 13–0

Nebraska's 1971 season came down to a single game at Owen Field in Norman, Okla., on Thanksgiving Day. At least, that's how it is most often remembered. The No. 1-ranked Cornhuskers played No. 2-ranked Oklahoma in what still is regularly regarded as college football's "Game of the Century."

The teams were undefeated and untied, and they included 17 of 22 first-team All-Big Eight players. Nebraska had the nation's top-ranked defense. Oklahoma had its most productive offense.

The cover of the issue (November 22, 1971) of Sports Illustrated published the week of the game included photographs of Nebraska linebacker Bob Terrio and Oklahoma running back Greg Pruitt, nose-to-nose, beneath the headline: "Irresistible Oklahoma Meets Immovable Nebraska."

The game was equal to its buildup. Johnny Rodgers opened the scoring less than four minutes into the first quarter with a 72-yard punt return, and Rich Sanger finished it by kicking an extra point with 1:38 remaining, following a dramatic, 74-yard drive capped by Jeff Kinney's 2-yard run.

Rodgers' punt return is among the most memorable moments of the game.

But he also made a key play to keep the winning touchdown drive alive, improvising on a pass route to get open on third-and-8, then making a diving catch of a Jerry Tagge pass for a 12-yard gain and a first down.

Cornhusker middle guard Rich Glover, who made 22 tackles that afternoon, put the finishing touches on Nebraska's 35-31 victory, deflecting a fourth-down, Jack Mildren pass with barely a minute left.

Except for the Oklahoma game, Nebraska was never seriously challenged in its quest to repeat as national champion. The Cornhuskers overwhelmed 12 other opponents, including Alabama in the Orange Bowl, to earn themselves a place among the best teams in college football history.

Coach Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide went to Miami undefeated, untied and ranked No. 2. It left a 38-6 loser, providing proper payback for Nebraska's 39-28 and 34-7 bowl losses to Alabama following the 1965 and 1966 seasons. The first of those losses, in the 1966 Orange Bowl game, cost Coach Bob Devaney's Cornhuskers a perfect season and, most likely, a national championship.

Although Nebraska averaged what was then a school-record 437.7 yards on offense, including a Big Eight-leading 179.3 yards passing, and ranked third nationally in scoring, averaging 39.1 per game, it was defense that set apart the Cornhuskers — as the Sports Illustrated headline pointed out.

Nebraska ranked second in the nation in rushing defense (85.9), third in scoring defense (8.2) and fifth in total defense (202.9). The Cornhusker Blackshirts included seven first-team All-Big Eight selections, four players who would earn consensus All-America recognition during their careers and two Outland Trophy winners: Glover and tackle Larry Jacobson. Glover would win both the Outland and Lombardi awards in 1972. They were joined in the starting lineup by junior end Willie Harper, like Glover, a two-time All-American. John Dutton, an All-American in 1973, was a sophomore backup.

Besides Glover, Jacobson and Harper, the other first-team all-conference defenders were Terrio, Jim Anderson, Bill Kosch and Joe Blahak. Anderson, Kosch and Blahak played in the secondary.

Anderson and Tagge, one of five Cornhuskers on the All-Big Eight first-team offense, were the captains. Both were from West High School in Green Bay, Wis., as was starting monster back Dave Mason, a junior who had sat out the 1970 season as a medical redshirt.

The other first-team offensive players were Rodgers, Kinney, Carl Johnson and Dick Rupert.

Wingback Johnny Rodgers was a key to the Huskers' national title run in 1971. Rodgers made a name for himself as a junior in 1971, before winning the Heisman Trophy in 1972.

The Cornhusker defense was opportunistic as well as immovable, contributing to a school-record plus-26 turnovers. Nebraska recovered 20 opponents' fumbles and intercepted 27 passes.

Nebraska was No. 2 in the Associated Press preseason rankings but moved to No. 1 after opening with a 34-7 victory against Oregon at Memorial Stadium. Bobby Moore, now known as Ahmad Rashad, scored the Ducks' lone touchdown with just over three minutes remaining in the game.

Only three opponents scored more than one touchdown against the Cornhuskers. Oklahoma State and Kansas State each managed two touchdowns, and Oklahoma, of course, scored four. The only time all season that Nebraska even trailed during a game was against the Sooners.

The Cornhuskers opened conference play with back-to-back shutouts against Missouri (36-0) and Kansas (55-0), during a stretch in which they posted 12 consecutive scoreless quarters.

In addition to everything else, the Cornhuskers almost always had good field position because of the punt and kickoff returns of Rodgers, a key to their success, according to Tom Osborne, an assistant who designed and coordinated the offense. "As great as that team was, take Johnny Rodgers out of there on kickoff and punt returns, and it probably wouldn't have gone 13-0," Osborne said.

Nebraska extended its winning streak to 23 games and its unbeaten streak to 32 games in 1971. Repeating as national champions "wasn't automatic," Rodgers said.

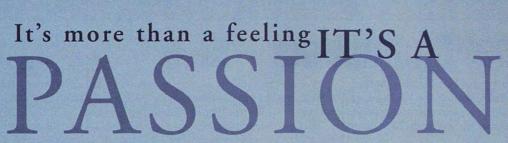

But going into the season, "we were pretty doggone confident."

1994 National Champions – 13–0

Byron Bennett's 45-yard field goal attempt sailed wide left in the final second of Nebraska's 18-16 loss to Florida State in the 1994 Orange Bowl game. With that miss, an 11-game Cornhusker winning streak ended. And the run to Coach Tom Osborne's first national championship began.

Nebraska's focus for the 1994 season was finishing the business that had been left incomplete on the night of Jan. 1, 1994, in Miami. The actual process started with a 31-0 victory against West Virginia in the Kickoff Classic in late August, and it concluded with a come-frombehind, 24-17 victory against Miami, on the Hurricanes' home field, in the 1995 Orange Bowl game. To a degree, that game characterized the

An important subplot to the drama of 1994 involved the Cornhusker quarterbacks. Junior Tommie Frazier, a two-year starter, opened the season as if he might run away with the Heisman Trophy before being sidelined by blood clot problems in his right knee after the fourth game.

Frazier's misfortune represented an opportunity for junior Brook Berringer, who came off the bench to lead Nebraska to the Big Eight championship and the Orange Bowl game. Berringer was 7-0 as a starter, passing for 1,295 yards (14th on Nebraska's all-time, single-season list) and 10 touchdowns, in what amounted to only eight full Coach Osborne receives a victory hoist from Jon Vedral and Kareem Moss after the Huskers games. He threw just three passes defeated Miami in the Orange Bowl for Osborne's first national title. in the first three games.

When Berringer was slowed by a partially collapsed lung, a problem that occurred in back-to-back games, sophomore walk-on Matt Turman stepped up and directed the Cornhuskers. Although Berringer had been cleared to play, Turman gained a 7-6 lead against Kansas State at Manhattan that ended 17-6.

Turman had come on to replace Berringer the previous week, directing Nebraska to 23 second-half points in a 32-3 victory against Oklahoma State in the Cornhuskers' Big Eight opener.

The quarterback sequence was somewhat similar in the Orange Bowl victory. Frazier, who had been included on the travel roster for the final regular-season game at Oklahoma (but did not play), started against Miami. Berringer replaced him and got Nebraska on the scoreboard in the second quarter, with a 19-yard touchdown pass to tight end Mark Gilman. Then Frazier returned to finish it and earn game MVP honors.

Nebraska trailed the Hurricanes 10-7 at halftime and fell behind 17-7 less than two minutes into the third quarter. But during the intermission, Osborne had described to the Cornhuskers the way the second half would go if they maintained their composure and continued to play smart physical Husker football. They did.

Afterward, Osborne's halftime speech was made public. It was eerily

Even though Nebraska finished its business by going 13-0, it remained for voters in the Associated Press and USA Today/CNN polls to certify the Cornhuskers as national champions. Penn State also went through the season undefeated and untied at 12-0. The Nittany Lions argued to no avail.

Nebraska began the season ranked No. 4 by the Associated Press, moved to No. 1 after the Kickoff Classic, then inexplicably dropped to No. 2 following a 42-16 victory at Texas Tech. Sophomore safety Mike Minter suffered a season-ending knee injury during the game televised by ESPN.

In many ways, Minter was to the defense what Frazier was to the offense. His loss was significant; a fact underscored during an unexpectedly close, 42-32 victory against pass-happy Wyoming.

The Cornhuskers dropped to No. 3 in the AP poll after the Kansas State victory, before finally moving to No. 1 following the Colorado game. The Buffaloes came to Lincoln undefeated, untied and ranked No. 2 by the AP and No. 3 by USA Today/CNN. Nebraska was No. 2 according to the coaches. The Cornhuskers remained No. 2 in the USA Today/CNN rankings another week, before ascending to the top spot on the strength of a 45-17 victory over Kansas, despite a Penn State victory against Indiana.

Nebraska earned the voters' respect with an offense that featured one of the best lines in school history and a new 4-3 defense that allowed only 55 points in conference play. Led by linebacker Ed Stewart, a consensus All-American, the Cornhuskers ranked second in the nation in scoring defense, fourth in total defense and rushing defense, and 10th in pass defense.

The offensive line included Outland Trophy winner Zach Wiegert at tackle. Along with winning the Outland, Wiegert was a consensus first-team All-American. His linemate Brenden Stai earned All-America honors of his own at guard.

Rob Zatechka, the other tackle, was a four-time academic All-Big Eight who graduated with a perfect 4.0 grade-point average in biological sciences. Along with Joel Wilks, the other guard, and center Aaron Graham, the only non-senior among the starters, the group was nicknamed the "Pipeline."

Nebraska led the nation in rushing, with sophomore Lawrence Phillips gaining 1,722 yards, the second-highest single-season total in Cornhusker history. He finished eighth in the Heisman Trophy voting.

Phillips, Graham, Wiegert and Stai all earned first-team all-conference honors on offense.

Stewart, Troy Dumas, Donta Jones, Barron Miles and Tyrone Williams represented the defense on the All-Big Eight first team. Stewart, Wiegert, Zatechka and Terry Connealy were

1995 National Champions – 12–0

Tom Osborne's 23rd Nebraska team was arguably his best. The 1995 Cornhuskers were among the best in college football history.

Though such a sweeping assertion cannot be proven, it can be supported. Nebraska's 1995 national championship team was No. 1 on a list of the top major college teams since 1956. The list was compiled by computer analyst Jeff Sagarin, whose rankings are regularly published in USA Today.

The 1971 Cornhuskers were No. 2 according to Sagarin's power ratings. Both were well ahead of the remaining 23 teams on the list, which also included the 1972 and 1970 Cornhuskers.

Nebraska was never seriously challenged in 1995, as it extended a school-record winning streak to 25 games and repeated as national champion—something that has been accomplished only eight other times since the Associated Press initiated its national college football rankings in 1936.

The closest any opponent could come to the Cornhuskers was 14 points. But even that was deceptive. Washington State trailed Nebraska 28-7 after three quarters, in the fifth game of the season. The Cornhuskers scored 20 points in the second quarter to overcome a 7-0 first quarter deficit.

After that, the outcome was never in serious doubt. The final score was 35-21.

Nebraska, which began the season ranked No. 2 by the Associated Press, didn't move to No. 1 until back-to-back victories against No. 8 Kansas State (49-25) and No. 7 Colorado (44-21). After completing a third consecutive undefeated and untied regular season and winning a fifth consecutive Big Eight championship, including four in a row outright, the Cornhuskers eliminated any doubt about their claim to a second consecutive national title by overwhelming No. 2 Florida, 62-24, in the Fiesta Bowl.

Despite the Cornhuskers' success, the 1995 season was one of mixed emotions, resulting from much-publicized off-the-field problems. "It was a terrible year, and it was a great year," Osborne said after the Fiesta Bowl. "It was taxing. On the other hand, it was very gratifying to work with a group of players who had the kind of focus and drive to carry them through. That was the redeeming factor.

"There were times I was running on empty. I take my spiritual life very seriously. I relied on my faith more than I ever have. I was grateful for the sustaining strength that was there."

The star-crossed nature of the 1995 team was further underscored in the spring, when Brook Berringer, a quarterback who had just completed his eligibility, died in the crash of a light plane.

Osborne again had to turn to his faith to handle the tragedy.

"The Brook I knew, there was nothing he could have done better," Osborne said. "The length (of his life) was not what you would have liked. But the quality couldn't have been better."

Berringer, who had stepped in for an injured Tommie Frazier during the 1994 national championship season, accepted his role without complaint and contributed as a proven backup in 1995.

Frazier, fully recovered from the blood clot problems that sidelined him much of his junior season, broke the Cornhusker career record for total offense (5,476) and touchdowns produced (79). He earned All-America recognition, finished second to Ohio State's Eddie George in balloting for the Heisman Trophy and received the most valuable player award in the Fiesta Bowl game.

Frazier, whose record in four years as a starter was 33-3, established himself among the best quarterbacks in Cornhusker history.

"I would say if I were to choose one player who has had the most impact on the outcome of the greatest number of games over the longest period of time since I've been at Nebraska, it would be Tommie Frazier," said Osborne, who began as a graduate assistant in 1962.

Under Frazier's direction, Nebraska's offense was even more productive than that of the "Scoring Explosion" team in 1983. The Cornhuskers ranked No. 1 in the nation in both rushing (399.8) and scoring (52.4) and No. 2 in total offense (556.3). The 1983 team was slightly better rushing the ball, averaging a school-record 401.7 yards, but it averaged slightly fewer points (52.0) and total yards (546.7).

Ahman Green, who began fall camp down the list on the depth chart, became the starting I-back and broke the school rushing record for a freshman. He gained 1,086 yards and scored 12 touchdowns.

Green would have broken the school scoring record for a freshman were it not for Kris Brown, the place-kicker. Brown, like Green a true freshman, scored 97 points — a school record for kicking.

points — a school record for kicking.

In addition to Frazier, center Aaron Graham and outside linebacker
Jared Tomich earned first-team All-America honors. Graham also was a Cornhusker co-captain, along with tight end Mark Gilman, defensive tackle Christian Peter, safety Tony Veland and linebacker Phil Ellis.

Tomich, a junior who originally walked on, was among five Blackshirts who received first-team all-conference recognition. The other defensive players were Peter, linebacker Terrell Farley, rush end Grant Wistrom and cornerback Tyrone Williams. Frazier and Graham were joined on All-Big Eight firstteam offenses by Green, tackle Eric Anderson and guards Chris Dishman and Aaron Taylor.

Rarely has college football seen such a team. Maybe never.

A pajama-clad Tom Osborne was packing for home in the earlymorning hours of Jan. 3, 1998, when he heard the news. "By that time, I was wrung out enough that there wasn't much emotion left," he would say later that morning during a post-Orange Bowl game news conference.

His response to the news was typically low-key.

"Naturally, I was very pleased, very gratified," he said.

The source of his pleasure had been the announcement on ESPN the television set in his room at the Sheraton Bal Harbour on Miami Beach had been tuned to the network "by chance," he said - that his 25th and final team had been voted the USA Today/ ESPN coaches' national champion.

The Cornhuskers, No. 2 going into the Orange Bowl game, had squeezed ahead of Michigan in the coaches' poll on the strength of their 42-17 victory against No. 3-ranked Tennessee.

The Wolverines retained the top spot in the Associated Press media poll.

"Being a coach, I know a little bit how they think," said Osborne, who was among those with a vote in the USA Today/ESPN poll. "They probably looked at the fact we were 13-0, and to be unrewarded in some way would be . . . I don't mean to say an injustice. But it wouldn't be a good thing.'

No major college football team has gone 13-0 and been deprived of a national title. On the other hand, Michigan argued, no No. 1 team had ever won its bowl game and been dropped from the

see how any coach outside of the Big Ten or Pac-10 would vote for Michigan because if somebody from North Carolina, Florida State, wherever it might be, Notre Dame, coaches from there, if they were undefeated and won the Alliance bowl game, they would expect to share the national title," the senior from Wood River, Neb., said on the field, in front of CBS television cameras.

"It's been split before. It's OK to split it. It should be split."

Frost was well-versed on national championship history. The title had been split nine times previously since the coaches' poll was established in 1950, most recently in 1990 and 1991.

Nebraska's first national championship in 1970 was split with Texas. Cornhusker defensive tackle Jason Peter was less sharing than Frost.

"If you ask me, I don't think it should be a split title," he said after the Orange Bowl game. "I mean, we proved today that we're the best team in the country, without a doubt."

There probably wouldn't have been much doubt in anyone's mind had it not been for Nebraska's dramatic 45-38 overtime victory at Missouri in November. The Cornhuskers traveled to Columbia with the No. 1 ranking in both polls but returned to Lincoln ranked No. 4.

That same weekend, Michigan went from No. 4 to No. 1 on the strength of a 34-8 victory against No. 2 Penn State, and Florida State, which subsequently lost to Florida, went from No. 3 to No. 2.

Michigan might have slammed the door on Nebraska's national championship aspirations with a more decisive victory against Washington State in the Rose Bowl game, but the door was open "at least a crack," Osborne told his team after it watched the Wolverines win 21-16 on New Year's Day.

Coaching the Cornhuskers to a third national championship in four seasons was a fitting conclusion to Osborne's Hall of Fame career. The National Football Foundation waived its three-year waiting period for induction, allowing Osborne to be enshrined alongside the game's greatest coaches without delay.

Nebraska became only the second major college football program since the Associated Press began ranking teams in 1936 to earn three national titles in four seasons. Notre Dame won national titles in 1946, 1947 and 1949.

Peter and rush end Grant Wistrom, the Lombardi Award winner and two-time Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year, were the heart and soul of Nebraska's 1997 national champi-

"Those two guys, among some others, ramrodded that football team," Osborne said. "They decided a year ago they were going to come back and get the thing done. Their leadership was invaluable."

Peter and Wistrom earned All-America honors, as did offensive guard Aaron Taylor, the first Cornhusker to be named an All-American at two positions. He played center in 1996. Taylor was voted the Outland Trophy winner, with Peter being one of two runners-up.

Frost and I-back Ahman Green were among other key players on offense. Frost became only the 10th player in major college history to rush for 1,000 yards and pass for 1,000 yards in the same season, finishing with 1,095 and 1,237, respectively. His 2,332 yards of total offense were one short of the Nebraska single-season record, set by Jerry Tagge in 1971.

Green rushed for 1,877 yards, which were second in the nation. His yards also ranked second on the Cornhuskers' all-time single-season list, behind 1983 Heisman Trophy winner Mike Rozier's 2,148 yards.

That was Cornhusker quarterback Scott I-back Ahman Green rushed for an Orange Bowl record 206 yards, as Frost's point immediately after the deci- Nebraska defeated Tennessee, 42-17, in the 1998 Orange Bowl. Every Cornhusker, from freshman Matt Davison, whose touchdown catch of a deflected Frost pass on the final play of regulation against Missouri kept the title hopes alive, to scout team players such as senior Doug Seaman, contributed in varying degrees to Nebraska's fifth national title.

The 1997 national championship team was "somewhere in between" the 1994 and 1995 national championship teams, according to Osborne. It was "probably a little more talented than '94, certainly not near as controversial as '95. That was nice," he said. "So it was just kind of a nice way to go."

"Great leadership on the part of the players, and I didn't have to do much."

He was being overly modest, of course. The record will attest to that.

The University of Nebraska

The Esther L. Kauffman Academic Residential Center, under construction north of the Nebraska Union, will provide a high-tech living and learning environment as home to the J.D. Edwards Honors Program in Computer Science and Management. The program prepares graduates to use computing foundations, information technology, and business principles to meet the challenges of industry in the 21st century.

For 131 years, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln has been the leading institution of higher education in the state. With more than 22,000 current students and about 190,000 graduates, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln is the largest campus in the university system and its principal doctoral degree-granting institution. While dedicated to providing the best educational experience for its students, the University also is committed to serving the citizens of the state with a variety of outreach and extended education programs.

The University of Nebraska was chartered by the Legislature in 1869 as the state's public university and land-grant institution. It was the first college west of the Mississippi River to confer graduate degrees. As the University system's most comprehensive entity, the Lincoln campus includes the agricultural components organized within the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

The University is a Carnegie Foundation Research Institution I, a member of the Association of American Universities and has been accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools since 1913.

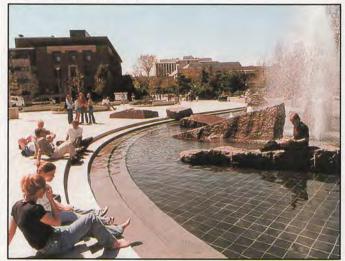

The university offers 36 doctoral programs, 63 master's degree programs and five six-year specialist degree programs. The College of Law has a professional degree program and jointly administers with the Graduate College eight programs that combine a master's or doctoral degree with a law degree. Nine undergraduate colleges (Agriculture and Natural Resources, Architecture, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Engineering and Technology, Fine and Performing Arts, Human Resources and Family Sciences, Journalism and Mass Communications, and Teachers) offer more than 120 baccalaureate degree programs in the arts, sciences, humanities and professions.

A Comprehensive Education Program embodies the ideals of a liberal arts education. The program acquaints all undergraduates with the basic research tools and the global human context and introduces them to a wide variety of academic subject areas. It emphasizes strong written and oral communication skills and critical thinking. A co-curricular component encourages student leadership and involvement in campus activities and in the wider community.

The George W. Beadle Center for Genetics and Biomaterials Research was dedicated in 1995 and is one of the University's major facilities for science and technology. The center contains state-of-the-art laboratories devoted to research and development in biotechnology, biochemistry, biological materials and related fields. The center is named in honor of a Nobel Prize-winning geneticist and University alumnus.

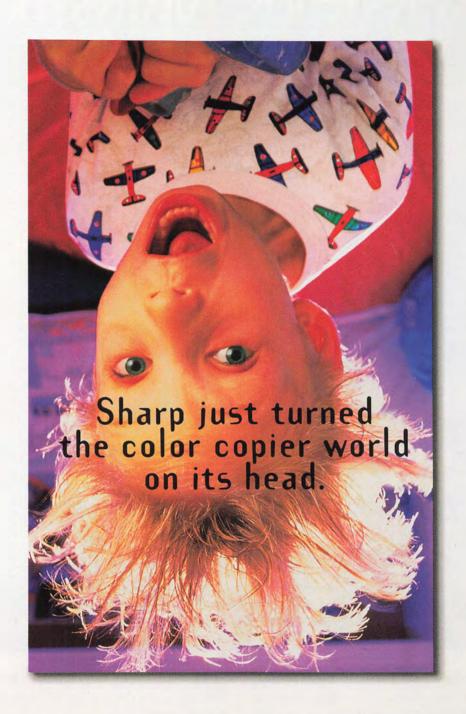

The University reaches thousands of citizens across the state each year through outreach activities. The Cooperative Extension Service provides all Nebraskans with information and assistance in agriculture and natural resources, home economics, family living, 4-H and community resource development. Continuing Studies offers alternatives to formal on-campus education with programs, including Internet courses, summer reading courses, evening classes, independent study by correspondence, telecourses and study tours.

A number of specialized centers offer assistance to the state's citizens. For example, the Bureau of Business Research is a valuable resource for individuals and local governments. The Food Processing Center has helped hundreds of businesses with everything from product development to marketing, and the Technology Transfer Office expedites the movement of university-developed knowledge into real-world products and processes. The campus is home to the nationally renowned Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery and Sculpture Garden, the Christlieb Collection of Western Art and several other galleries. The Lied Center for Performing Arts draws big-name acts in contemporary entertainment, and the University of Nebraska State Museum boasts a world-class fossil collection.

Watchorn Clears His Mind, Finds Success

Troy Watchorn

Stadium.

By David Wilson

For senior Troy Watchorn, grabbing an interception in a school-record four consecutive games has been a little more complicated than just being in the right place at the right time.

You could credit the fact that the senior safety has stuck to his assignments. You could credit the fact that he has read the quarterbacks. You could credit all those summer days he spent working in the weight room, jumping rope and pulling a harness up the overpass north of Memorial

Or you could credit the incident in which he "blew up" at his mother's house in Columbus last Thanksgiving.

It marked the first time his mind had been free since his father passed away just days after he saw Troy's first game as a Cornhusker in the fall of 1997.

"I didn't know it at the time, but earlier in my career – after my dad had passed away – my head wasn't clear," Watchorn said. "I thought I was going hard in the off-season, but I don't think I was giving it my full all-out effort. I thought I was working hard, but I don't think I really was until I blew up at my mother's house.

"I finally had a clear head."

Beginning right after the Fiesta Bowl last January, Watchorn's new way of thinking carried over into his off-season workouts. Prior to this season, Watchorn had recorded three career tackles in a total of 13 games in three years.

As a junior in 1999, Watchorn saw action in three games serving primarily as a member of Nebraska's special teams. He did not record a tackle.

"I just decided that this was my last season, and I wasn't going to just sit around," Watchorn said. "Even if I wasn't going to play, I wasn't going to let the younger guys, who are playing, have a bad work ethic. I just came in with the attitude that I was going to give 110-percent all the time, every play. If the coaches see it, they see it. That was my thinking. I always believed I was good enough to play here, I just had to go out and do it."

Watchorn returned his first interception of his career 39 yards for a touchdown against Iowa on Sept. 23, before nabbing another interception against Missouri, Iowa State, and Texas Tech last week. His four straight games with an interception broke the school mark held three other players.

The NU coaches took notice of Watchorn's improved work ethic and on-field play, awarding the 5-foot-11, 200-pounder a blackshirt prior to NU's game with Texas Tech. Watchorn also made the first start of his career against the Red Raiders.

"It's a huge honor that my peers and my coaches look at me like that," Watchorn said. "At the same time, it's a great honor, but it can be relinquished from you just as easily as you got it. I have to maintain the stuff that got me here – and that's to work hard and continue to do everything I can do."

Watchorn currently ranks sixth nationally this year in interceptions per game.

Nebraska Secondary Coach George Darlington said he has seen Watchorn make great strides – both on and off the field – since he first arrived on campus as an all-state football player from Columbus High School.

"Troy has come light years," Darlington said. "When he came here, he was a very talented athlete in high school, but wasn't involved with the same degree of responsibility as he is here. From spring practice on, especially, he has shown great improvement."

Aside from continuing to improve on the field, Watchorn said his biggest goal is helping the Huskers to another national championship. Because of personal situations that arose relating to his father dying of cancer, Watchorn missed the championship game in 1997, and was not awarded a ring.

"In 1997, I got in trouble after my father passed away," Watchorn said, "and I didn't get a ring. Now I have a chance to get one."

As a senior this season, Watchorn wants to make a difference.

"I hadn't really played much until this year," Watchorn said, "but I always believed I could play here. I just had to quit saying it and do it. I didn't know what kind of funk I was in. I look back on it and it's like, man, I really was a piece of work back then. I kind of went through the motions and didn't go all out all the time. That's what you need to do around here to be successful."

But beyond finding success on the playing field, Watchorn has learned about dealing with real-life situations.

"It's just life," Watchorn said. "People go through hard times all the time. You can't help it. That's the way God intended for it to play out. I wish I could have played earlier, but I was behind great players, and I didn't show the work ethic that I'm showing now because of my mental state at the time.

"But now, I couldn't be happier."

Husker Athletes Capture 10 Medals in Sydney

By Tanya Wright

Note: This is the second installment of a two-part series on Nebraska athletes competing at the 2000 Olympic Games.

In what has been dubbed the 'miracle on the mat' and has been called one of the greatest upsets in Olympic history, former Husker wrestler Rulon Gardner, defeated two-time World Champion Aleksandr Karelin from Russia for the gold medal in the Greco-Roman 130kg/286-pound weight class.

Karelin had not lost a match since 1987 and had not conceded a point in 10 years, but Gardner, who grew up on a farm in Afton Wyo., was able to score one single point, all that was needed to secure gold.

"I didn't actually think I could beat him," Gardner said to reporters following the match. "All I knew was that I'd go out with my head down and work forward."

After a scoreless first period, the wrestlers had to begin the second period with a clinch that must remain locked until one executes a scoring move or releases his lock.

As the two battled, Gardner managed to keep his hands clinched, but Karelin's slipped apart. It took 90 seconds of replay by the mat judges to confirm that Karelin's hands had separated.

"He had a great lock on me, and another three or four inches I would have let it slip," Gardner said. "But I always wrestle kind of unorthodox, and our feet got tangled and I got under him. Maybe it confused him."

The loss was only the second defeat Karelin had ever experienced.

But Gardner wasn't the only Husker to have a gold medal placed around his neck.

Swimmer Adam Pine, who in March captured the first national title by a male swimmer in Nebraska history when he won the 100-meter butterfly in an NCAA record time of 51.23, was a member of Australia's gold medal winning 4x100-meter freestyle relay.

Although Pine did not swim in the finals, he was awarded a medal because he swam the first leg (49.25) in the preliminary heat. Pine also competed on the Aussies' 4x100-meter medley relay team, which won a silver medal in 3:35.27. Pine swam the butterfly stroke (third leg) in the preliminary heat, finishing in 52.87 and helping his team win the heat in 3:39.38.

Rulon Gardner was one of two Husker athletes to win a gold medal at the Olympics last month.

In addition to Pine, two other former Husker swimmers captured medals.

Sweden's Therese Alshammar took home three medals from Sydney, winning silver in the 50- and 100-meter freestyle events and adding a bronze as a member of Sweden's 4x100-meter relay. Alshammar was edged by Inge De Bruijn of the Netherlands, who broke her own world record in the semifinal heats of both the 50- and 100-meter freestyle events. Alshammar finished the 100-meter event in 54.33, while fellow Husker Helene Muller of South Africa finished sixth in 55.19. De Bruijn finished the event in 53.83, just 0.06 seconds off her world record time.

In the 50-meter final, Alshammar touched the wall in 24.51, just 0.19 seconds behind De Bruijn. Alshammar also swam the third leg of the 4x100-meter freestyle relay helping Sweden to a third-place finish in 3:40.30.

Muller, who competed in four different events, helped her South African teammates to a fifth-place finish in the 4x100-meter medley relay, anchoring a squad that finished in 4:05.15. In the 200-meter freestyle, Muller finished fifth in her semi-final heat, touching the wall in 2:00.04, just 0.07 seconds shy of qualifying for the finals. She also competed in the 50-meter freestyle, finishing 6th in her heat (25th overall) in 26:07.

Two-time gold medal winner Penny Heyns of South Africa added a third Olympic medal to her collection capturing a bronze in the 100-meter breaststroke. Heyns, the world and Olympic record holder in the event, touched the wall in 1:07.55. Heyns also competed in the 200-meter breaststroke, finishing seventh in her heat and 20th overall in 2:30.17.

In Atlanta in 1996, Heyns, who competed for Nebraska from 1993 to 1996, won gold in both the 100- and 200-meter breaststroke events, becoming the first South African to win a gold medal since 1952.

Swimming wasn't the only event where Huskers captured multiple medals. Prior to Sydney, Nebraska had sent three wrestlers to the Games, who combined for two medals. The Huskers had three representatives in Australia, including Terry Brands, who is in his first year as an assistant coach at Nebraska.

Former Husker Matt Lindland, wrestling at 76kg/167.5 pounds in the Greco-Roman competition, was defeated 3-0 by Russia's Mourat Kardanov in the gold medal match. Kardanov scored an early takedown at the 58-second mark to take a 1-0 lead. At 1:14, he turned Lindland, who lettered for Nebraska in 1992 and 1993, for a two-point gutwrench to end the scoring.

"He got on top of me early, and he turned me," Lindland said. "I got on top late, and it was slippery out there then. I'm happy with a medal. I'm disappointed I didn't win."

Brands, who joined the Nebraska coaching staff on June 26, defeated Uzbekistan's Damir Zakhartdinov 3-2 in the bronze medal match of the 58kg/127.75-pound freestyle competition. With the match tied at one, Brands scored a one-point takedown at 2:35 to take a 2-1 lead. The two exchanged one-point takedowns, but Brands held on to win 3-2.

No stranger to Olympic competition, 40year-old Merlene Ottey of Jamaica added an eighth medal to her total with a second-place finish in the 4x100-meter relay. Running the anchor leg, Ottey, competing in her sixth Olympics, helped the Jamaican team to the silver medal in 42.13, behind only the Bahamas, who broke the tape in 41.95.

The silver was Ottey's third, and the most decorated track and field athlete in Nebraska history, narrowly missed adding a sixth bronze medal to her resume. Ottey was nipped at the line by teammate Tanya Lawrence in the 100-meter dash. Ottey crossed in 11.19, just 0.01 seconds behind Lawrence. The race was won by American Marion Jones in 10.75.

Former Husker All-American volleyball player Allison Weston also narrowly missed out on a medal. The 1995 national player of the year and a member of Nebraska's 1995 national championship team, Weston captained the Americans to a fourth-place finish. Brazil defeated the U.S. in the bronze medal game 25-18, 25-22, 25-21.

Four Husker National Titalists Honored Today

The 1999-2000 season was one of the most successful in school history for the Nebraska athletic department. Behind seven regular-season conference titles and three Big 12 tournament titles, the Huskers earned their sixth straight top-15 finish in the Sears Directors' Cup standings, finishing sixth nationally.

Individually, Husker athletes dominated the conference and national scene as six different athletes earned Big 12 Player-of-the-Year honors while four Huskers reached the pinnacle of their sport, winning NCAA titles. This afternoon, we honor Nicole Allaire, Heather Brink, Adam Pine and Brad Vering for their accomplishments last season.

Nicole Allaire

Nicole Allaire

A member of the Nebraka rifle team, Nicole Allaire ended the 1999-2000 season the same way she started it. The Kearny, N.J., native won the smallbore title in the first match of her collegiate career and finished the season as an NCAA champion.

She capped off an impressive freshman campaign by winning the individual smallbore title at the NCAA Championships in Lexington, Va., in March. Allaire, who fired a then personal-best score of 1,180 in a match against Ohio State prior to nationals, used a career-best performance to claim the title. Both Allaire and Alaska-Fairbanks' Mathew Emmons fired scores of 1,183, however the Husker freshman was awarded the title on the basis of 80 center shots to Emmons' 78.

Bettering her personal-best total by three points, Allaire's score of 396 in the standing position broke the NCAA record for the highest standing score fired in individual competition. In fact, her standing score was the highest ever recorded in either the individual or team competition in the championship's 21-year history.

Allaire also qualified to compete in the NCAA individual air rifle competition finishing 15th (383). One of the top junior shooters in the country last year, she was dominant in the Nebraska lineup, claiming 11 event titles, including first-place finishes in both the air rifle and smallbore competitions in four matches.

She led the Huskers in nearly every match last season and was the first Husker named a National Rifle Association First-Team All-American, claiming the honor in both air and smallbore rifles. On the year, she averaged scores of 388 in air rifle and 1,165 in smallbore.

Heather Brink

The 2000 season was the culmination of an outstanding career for gymnast Heather Brink. The senior from Lincoln permanently etched her name into the NCAA record books, winning two national titles at the NCAA

Heather Brink

Championships in Boise, Idaho, as the Huskers placed fourth at nationals – equaling their best finish in school history.

Brink became the first Husker female to win an all-around national title, scoring a 39.60 to lead the Huskers to the Super Six Finals for the third time in four years. Entering the final event, Brink was in third place and needed a 9.925 for a share of the all-around title, but Brink came through with the finest routine of her career, scoring a 9.95 and equaling NU's school record to win by .025 of a point.

In the Super Six one night later, Brink was flawless, posting the top score of the evening with a 39.625, including a 9.95 on vault and a 9.925 on uneven bars, as the Huskers recorded their best finish in 11 years. In the event finals, she won her second NCAA title, placing first on vault with a 9.95, while finishing second on uneven bars (9.925) and eighth on floor exercise (9.80). Overall, she earned five All-America citations (four first-team and one second-team).

For her efforts, she was selected the Honda Award winner, representing the nation's top female collegiate gymnast. Brink joined softball standout Denise Day (1985) and volleyball players Karen Dahlgren (1987) and Allison Weston (1995) as NU's fourth Honda Award winner.

The Big 12 and Region 3 Gymnast of the Year, Brink posted eight of the top 10 all-around totals in school history, including a school record of 39.70 at the NCAA Regional. She also became the first Husker gymnast to score a 10, recording the mark on vault against Iowa State on Feb. 15, one of three 10s during the season. She closed her collegiate career as the most decorated gymnast in school history, earning two NCAA titles, 11 All-America awards, six regional titles and eight conference titles.

Adam Pine

Adam Pine

Adam Pine capped a phenomenal Husker career in 2000, becoming the first Nebraska male swimmer in school history to win an individual NCAA title. Pine took home his title in the 100-meter butterfly after touching the wall in 51.23, setting a new school record, NCAA and U.S. Open record en route to his first national title. The title came after runner-up finishes in both 1997 and 1999.

Throughout his four years as a Cornhusker, Pine became one of the most successful student-athletes in any sport to wear the scarlet and the cream. The Ballina, Australia, native, who later went on to win a gold medal in the 4x100-meter freestyle at the Olympics in Sydney, earned a total of 19 All-America awards, four Big 12 titles and scored a school-record 102 points at the NCAA Championships.

Pine's victory helped boost the Huskers to a 13th-place finish, the sixth-highest showing ever at an NCAA Championship.

During his senior year, Pine captured the Big 12 title in the 100-yard butterfly and finished fourth in the 200-yard butterfly (1:47.17) and fifth in the 50-yard freestyle (20.24).

Brad Vering

Brad Vering

Vering compiled a 38-3 record at 197-pounds on his way to Nebraska's seventh individual national title. Vering began the year winning his first 11 matches before meeting then-third-ranked Mark Munoz of Oklahoma

State in the finals of the Reno Challenge in December. Vering led the match 2-1 with 10 seconds remaining, but Munoz earned a two-point takedown for a 3-2 victory.

After that match, Vering then put together 15 consecutive wins, including the Midlands Tournament title in December, becoming the first Husker to win a Midlands title in 15 years. In a rematch with Munoz in early February, the OSU star outlasted Vering for a 6-5 victory. The next evening, Vering stunned the 5,100 fans cheering on Michigan State's own topranked Nick Muzashvili with a 17-4 major decision victory, leapfrogging Munoz into the top ranking.

After earning the top spot in the national rankings, Vering again was edged out by Munoz, this time in the finals of the Big 12 Championships. Munoz scored a two-point reversal with two seconds remaining in the second overtime to take the 3-1 victory.

Entering the championships with a No. 2 seed at 197 pounds, Vering began his run at the title with a 6-3 win over unseeded Mike Fickell of Penn before cruising to an 11-5 win over Pittsburgh's Dan Stine.

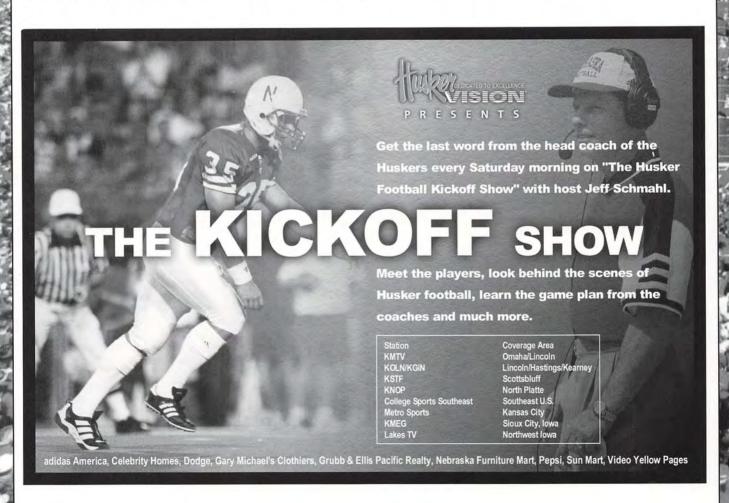

In the quarterfinals, Vering survived the biggest scare of the tournament, pulling out a 5-4 victory over Nick Preston of Ohio State. Vering trailed 4-3 before using a two-point reversal with only two seconds left to advance to the semifinals with a 5-4 win. In the semifinals, Vering controlled the rematch against Muzashvili, winning 5-2 to advance to the finals.

In the title match, Vering and Zach Thompson exchanged escapes in regulation battling to a 1-1 tie. The match went to a two-minute sudden-death overtime in which neither wrestler scored. With the national title hanging in the balance, it came down to a coin flip to see which wrestler would choose down in the 30-second finale. Vering won the toss and needed just one second to escape with the 2-1 victory and the 197-pound national title.

Husker Student Coaches

Hire a Husker Program

The student-athletes at the University of Nebraska know what being part of success is all about. They understand the commitment that they make each year to their coaches and teammates will serve them well in their "quest to be the best" on the field of competition. During the summer, players make tremendous gains physically and the "team chemistry" starts to come together. In order to work out in Lincoln each summer, most players need some help financially. Huskers also realize that everything they do as student-athletes in preparation of winning championships will transfer with them throughout life into a successful employment opportunity and professional career.

When you hire a Husker, you are employing young adults who have qualities and strengths that will complement your business and associate needs. Husker student-athletes are self-motivated, disciplined and responsible. As they work to master their sport skills for competition, they too are gaining valuable experience in time management and organizational skills. A student-athlete from the University of Nebraska understands the demands of a full day, which typically includes attending classes, practice, strength and conditioning workouts, team meetings and studying. Huskers are prepared to accept the challenges of your employment opportunity. They are willing to learn and capable of doing the job you request.

Why is the Program Important?

Because of NCAA limitations on the number of athletic scholarships that are allowed to award each year, not every student-athlete who is a member of the football team is receiving a scholarship. Many of our athletes are walk-on team members who must endure the expenses of attending the university on their own. These athletes must work during the summer vacation period as well as during the academic year to offset registration fees and cost of living expenses. These non-scholarship athletes play an integral part in the success of our football program and without employment, would not be able to attend the university or participate on the football team. An employment opportunity for these young men simply make their dreams of becoming a Husker come true.

A football student-athlete who is receiving an athletic scholarship has all of his academic related expenses provided. These expenses include tuition, room and board and books and fees. However, all other personal expenses, such as return home travel, clothing needs, medical or dental services, telephone access, etc., are the responsibility of the student-athlete. The student-athletes who receive athletic scholarships also benefit greatly from summer and academic year employment. Employers who provide job opportunities for any of our football athletes play a very important role in the support system for our student-athletes.

Who to Contact About the Student-Athlete Employment Program

If you are interested in employing a Husker football player during the summer vacation period, you should contact the Nebraska Football Office at (402) 472-3116. Coaches Turner Gill and Dan Young along with football secretary Joni Duff will coordinate the placement of football athletes for your employment needs.

During the academic year, contact should be made with Theresa Becker, Assistant Compliance Director for the Athletic Department, located at 300 West Stadium. Proper forms and documentation regarding the employment of a student-athlete must be completed before beginning of employment as well as at the conclusion of the employment appointment. Feel free to call (402) 472-7009 with questions or concerns.

For more information regarding NCAA rules on student-athlete employment, please contact the University of Nebraska Compliance Office at (402) 472-2042.

Russ Hochstein was one of the Nebraska football players who participated in the "Hire a Husker" program last summer.

2000 Husker Employment Sponsors

Although the following listing may not adequately thank all of the individuals and businesses who have helped out the Husker work program over the years, the NU athletic department thanks these businesses for their support by allowing Husker student-athletes to gain valuable on-the-job experience. If your name or business was inadvertently omitted, we apologize. Thank you for your continued support of this program.

Remembering the Human Factor in Community Planning

By David Ochsner, Public Relations

There was a time when planners in rural Nebraska were about as exotic as zebras. Towns quickly sprang up along railroad tracks, and some settlements looked like they had just dropped out of the sky.

It is an image that persists to this day for residents and non-residents alike. John and Sharon Gaber would like to change that image, not only for the students who attend their classes at UNL, but also for readers of the prestigious Journal of Planning Education and Research, which recently named the Gabers as joint book review editors following a highly competitive selection process.

A quarterly publication of the Association of Collegiate Schools of Planning, the Journal has an international readership that includes scholars as well as planning professionals.

The previous review editor was from Harvard, so the change in editorship will mark a shift in perspective from the East to the Midwest. "Our editorship will bring a new commitment to book reviews for the journal. This will be a great opportunity to get the word out about Nebraska, to give a Midwestern perspective to the planning discussion," said Sharon, an associate professor of community and regional planning who works next door to husband John in Architecture Hall. "We will ask faculty in our department as well as faculty at other Midwestern universities to help write the reviews."

Although the geographic disposition of the reviews may change, the Gabers' professional perspectives are much broader-both are natives of Los Angeles and former residents of New York City. According to the Gabers, provincial views have always been a part of the history of planning in the United States. Major urban areas in the United States have dominated much of the thinking in the planning profession during the past century; these 'schools" of thought usually coincided with the economic ascent of a particular city-the New York School, the Chicago School, and lately the Los Angeles School all have played dominant roles in shaping policy in the planning profession.

Even though each of these schools represent different planning trends, all share an urban perspective. "What Sharon and I hope to do is broaden the field and include rural and small town planning as well," said John, an assistant professor in planning who originally came to the College of Architecture six years ago to serve as the first director of the Nebraska Lied Main Street Program. That program helps rural communities revitalize their historic or traditional commercial areas.

The Gabers also will lend their expertise in public policy and social reform to the planning debate. John said social reformers have traditional links to the planning profession, but in the past these reforms often occurred in spite of the work of planners.

"Social reformers were early planners—they were concerned with health, immigration and sanitary reform, they were the ones who mapped out cases of typhoid and traced its cause to contaminated water," John said. One early reformer, the photographer Jacob Riis, started a movement in the New York tenements that eventually became a planning initiative. "He went from looking directly at the people to the spaces they inhabited...he stimulated community plans and even housing designs."

For much of the last century, planners were often more concerned with the needs of commercial interests or followed grand utopian schemes that viewed human inhabitants, especially those of lesser means, as abstractions to be filed away in neatly arranged building blocks or avoided altogether by the construction of elevated roadways.

"Planners didn't have people on their maps," said Sharon, who holds one of the A. Leicester Hyde Professorships in Planning. "What they called urban renewal was actually urban removal."

What the Gabers represent today is a profession that has become more inclusive, where the decisions of planners can include any number of variables including public policy, environmental concerns, transportation needs, economic development as well as the physical plan itself. "Contemporary planners go well beyond the land use and urban design perspective," John said. "They directly address human needs."

Currently, the Gabers employ seven research assistants between the two of them, working on funded projects ranging from housing to truck parking. In their time at UNL they have generated almost $900,000 in grant money.

One shouldn't confuse planners with social workers, however. "A social worker has a one on one relationship with people—they are counselors, they are micro-social workers," Sharon said. "A planner on the other hand gathers a variety of information (including data from social workers) and puts together a plan to help a general population. When they work with the public, the Gabers act as experts in facilitating a broader role for citizens in the planning process.

Sharon developed her "macro" view of the city as a child growing up in Los Angeles. She witnessed the destruction of African American neighborhoods that always seemed to lie in the path of freeway development. John, on the other hand, became more interested in the details, experiencing L.A. by observing individuals—undocumented workers who sold oranges or washed windows along the freeway. "I became more practice-oriented, and John became the theorist," Sharon said.

So how does this apply to teaching planning at Nebraska? "The urban areas are still dealing with these social issues," Sharon, who is also the graduate committee chair of Community and Regional Planning, said. "But the Great Plains are catching up. You see the plight of the immigrants working for the meatpackers (and) the problems associated with growth and urban sprawl."

"The face of Nebraska is changing," John, who just received the article of the year award from the Western Planners Association for his article on refugees who live in the states comprising the Western Planners Association, said. "It is slowly becoming more international. Along with the changes come the problems associated with poverty, housing shortages, access to services, and competing cultures."

When the Gabers first came to Nebraska they showed their students slides of a large building in New York that was encircled by homeless people living in small boxes. "The students just gasped," Sharon said. "Nebraska will experience the influx of immigrants just like everyone else in the country. How we respond to that challenge will be one of the most important issues facing this state for many years to come."

Nebraska White Wheat Potential Great for Export

By Cheryl Alberts, IANR news writer

Following an educational thrust by a hard white winter wheat committee beginning about 18 months ago, wheat industry leaders say progress is being made, but there's still a ways to go.

But by fall 2002, they hope Nuplains, a newly developed Nebraska hard white winter wheat, will be familiar enough for producers to plant. If that happens, elevators will have a sufficient supply of Nuplains to sell, and premiums eventually may be possible. Wheat leaders say that first, producers and elevator managers must be convinced that handling the new class will pay off.

Drew Lyon, Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources dryland crops specialist based at NU's Panhandle Research and Extension Center in Scottsbluff, chairs the white wheat educational committee. He outlines the Catch 22 of the new crop: Elevators will deal with it only if there is sufficient quantity, but there won't be a sufficient quantity unless producers find it worth their while to shift from their traditional crops.

"It's a very difficult thing to get over the hurdle," Lyon said. "Everybody's looking around for where the money is."

A key issue in handling white wheat is keeping it separate from red wheats and other grains. Wheat is reduced a full grade for every 1 percent contamination with a contrasting class of grain.

Ron Maas, executive director of the Nebraska Wheat Board, agrees time is needed for Nebraska producers to accept the new class of wheat. This fall will be the first for them to plant Nuplains, developed by NU and U.S. Department of Agriculture Agricultural Research scientists.

Successful implementation of a white wheat program could help crack this Australian-dominated market. White wheats are used for foods, such as tortillas, pita breads and Asian noodles, as well as American-style breads and cereals. Each product requires a different variety of white wheat for best results.

Nebraska's variety is fairly versatile: It "bakes a respectable loaf of bread and makes a good noodle," Maas said.

White wheat lacks the bitter flavor that comes from the tannins that give red wheat its color. Therefore, products from white wheat taste sweeter and yield more flour, because the grain can be milled closer to the hull.

General Mills and ConAgra already contract with some Nebraska producers to raise specific amounts of white wheat to meet their known demand, Lyon said. Other Nebraska producers, however, want a guaranteed premium before crop that could spread producer marketing risks, but not replace red wheat. He encourages producers and grain elevator managers to get together to discuss white wheat's potential, but notes producers should have a buyer committed before planting. The committee has hosted several meetings to inform producers and elevator managers about managing white wheat. Some elevators already are committed to white wheat and are expected to contract with individual producers, Maas said, while others say they need an estimated 100,000 bushels to make it worth their while.

Maas considers white wheat an alternative

The potential for a white wheat market is sizeable: Asia alone imports 400 million bushels of white wheat. Last year Nebraska produced 66.5 million bushels of wheat on 1.75 million acres, Maas said. About half of that is exported.

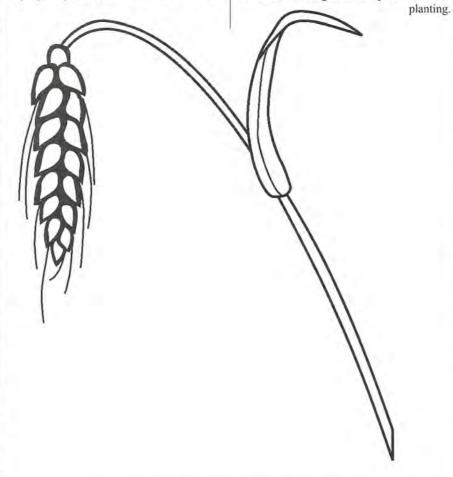

Last year 269 acres of Foundation — certified hard white wheat seed — were planted in Nebraska. This resulted in about 6,000 bushels potentially available for certified wheat seed this fall, said Steve Knox, field services supervisor for the Nebraska Crop Improvement Association. Knox said yields were less than anticipated due to hail and drought. A bushel of wheat plants a little more than an acre, with yields ranging from 30-60 bushels per acre.

NU experts say red and white wheats have many similarities, such as seeding dates and rates, fertilization, harvest, yields and test weights. A drier climate helps prevent seed head sprouting in white wheat. To ensure minimum volunteer red wheat, it should be grown only on dryland ground that hasn't been planted to hard red winter wheat for at least three years, or irrigated ground not planted to hard red wheat for at least two years.

The Nebraska Wheat Board helps fund NU's wheat breeding program, conducted in cooperation with IANR's Agricultural Research Division. NU is also working on developing other white wheats.

The Hard White Wheat 2000 Committee, headed by Lyon, includes representatives from NU Cooperative Extension, Nebraska Wheat Board, Nebraska Department of Agriculture, Nebraska Grain and Feed Association, Nebraska Crop Improvement Association and Nebraska Wheat Growers Association.

Maas said that the last time Nebraska saw a new class of wheat was around the beginning of the 20th century. NU Experiment Station trials in the 1890s showed superior yields of Turkey hard red winter wheat over spring wheat, and producers overwhelmingly adopted the newcomer. Spring wheat was much more susceptible to July and August heat; fall-planted winter wheat is harvested by mid-July, typically before summer heat is most intense.

"The Blackshirt Blazer is rough, tough and indestructible!" --Charlie McBride

After 23 years as a defensive coach at the University of Nebraska, Charlie McBride's retirement had Nebraskans and the nation saddened by his departure. Coach McBride's defense has ranked ten times in the top ten. He has coached 19 all conference players, five All-Americans, 20 pro players, and 11 Academic All-Americans. Charlie received Sporting News "Best Defensive Coach Award" and also 1998 "Top Assistant Award." To honor Charlie McBride's achievements, these Nebraska Independent Retailers are proud to announce "Charlie McBride's Blackshirt Blazer."

This Blazer is 100% wool and has been specialty teflon coated to resist spills and stains, and, in Charlie's own words, "The Gatorade will roll right off the fabric." It is also practically wrinkle free, and durable enough to get tackled in.
